Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1902 Henry VIII and the Court Thomas Betteridge,Suzannah Lipscomb,2013 After 500 years Henry VIII still retains a public fascination unmatched by any monarch before or since Through this wide ranging yet thematically coherent approach a fascinating window is opened into the world of Henry VIII and his court In particular building on research undertaken over the last ten years a number of contributors focus on topics that have been neglected by traditional historical writing for example gender graffiti and clothing With contributions from many of the leading scholars of Tudor England the collection offers not only a snapshot of the latest historical thinking but also provides a starting point for future research into the world of this colourful but often misrepresented monarch

The Triumph of the Cross Richard Viladesau, 2008-04-22 This is a sequel to Richard Viladesau's well received study The Beauty of the Cross: The Passion of Christ in Theology and the Arts from the Catacombs to the Eve of the Renaissance. It continues his project of presenting theological history by using art as both an independent religious or theological text and as a means of understanding the cultural context for academic theology. Viladesau argues that art and symbolism function as alternative strands of theological expression sometimes parallel to and sometimes interwoven with and sometimes in tension with formal theological reflection on the meaning of crucifixion and its role in salvation history. This book examines the two great revolutionary movements that gave birth to the modern West: the Renaissance and the Protestant Reformation. This period was eventful for both theology and art and thus particularly fruitful for Viladesau's project. Using individual works of art over sixty of which are reproduced in this book to epitomize particular artistic and theological models, he explores the contours of each paradigm through the works of representative theologians as well as liturgical, poetic, artistic and musical sources. To name a few examples, the theologies of Savonarola, Luther, Calvin and the Council of Trent are examined in correlation to the new situation of art in the era of Fra Angelico, Leonardo, Michelangelo, Dürer, Cranach and the Mannerists. In this book, Viladesau continues to deepen our understanding of the foremost symbol of Christianity.
