Xia,2016-08-02 Back cover Many suicides left a mystery behind them in this world Were they crazy Were they evil Or were they ill I used to think they were simply stupid until the day when I became one of them My name is Nancy Xia At age eighteen I made a desperate attempt to end my life Miraculously I survived but I sustained a severe injury and will live with a physical disability for the rest of my life Thirteen years later however I am a happy and productive person I love life and I love to live I feel like I have an obligation to speak for others who were lost forever to suicide After reading this book it is my hope that you will come away with a better understanding of mental illness and a fresh and insightful perspective on some of the most troublesome social issues of our time around mental health For these reasons I feel profoundly compelled to share my story with you

Susan Weil,2013-11-05 Part of a series

Storytelling Organizational Practices David M. Boje,2014-06-20 Once upon a time the practice of storytelling was about collecting interesting stories about the past and converting them into soundbite pitches

Now it is more about foretelling the ways the future is approaching the present prompting a re storying of the past

Storytelling has progressed and is about a diversity of voices not just one teller of one past it is how a group or organization of people negotiates the telling of history and the telling of what future is arriving in the present With the changes in storytelling practices and theory there is a growing need to look at new and different methodologies Within this exciting new book David M Boje develops new ways to ask questions in interviews and make observations of practice that are about storytelling the future This after all is where management practice concentrates its storytelling while much of the theory and method work is all about how the past might recur in the future Storytelling Organizational Practices takes the reader on a journey from looking at narratives of past experience through looking at living stories of emergence in the present to looking at how the future is arriving in ways that prompts a re storying of the past
