The player piano made the American music industry and American music itself modern. For years Tin Pan Alley composers and performers labored over scores for quick ditties destined for the vaudeville circuit or librettos destined for the Broadway stage. But the introduction of the player piano in the early 1900s transformed Tin Pan Alley's guild of composers, performers, and theater owners into a music industry. The player piano with its perforated music rolls that told the pianos what key to strike changed musical performance because it made a musical piece standard, repeatable, and easy rather than something laboriously learned. It also created a national audience because the music that was played in New Orleans or Kansas City could also be played in New York or Missoula as new music, ragtime, and dance fox trot styles crisscrossed the continent along with the player piano's music rolls. By the 1920s, only automobile sales exceeded the amount generated by player pianos and their music rolls. Consigned today to the realm of collectors and technological arcane, the player piano was a moving force in American music and American life. Scott Joplin Nancy R. Ping Robbins, Guy Marco, 2014-06-17 First Published in 1998. This book is the first resource guide to published materials on Scott Joplin and encompasses a wide variety of items having to do with the man, his life, his music, and his influence on ragtime throughout the twentieth century. This guide includes articles and listings on festivals, concerts, clubs, or societies, individual performers, performing groups, radio, television, and film, as well as bibliography on Joplin and ragtime in general. The Flying Piano Roll Man Hi Babit, 2010-10-08 The remarkable life and times of Hi Babit. In three different chapters, the author also highlights his piano roll years, his flying years, and his invention ideas. In detailed description, this volume narrates the author's experience with his first piano teacher, his first job, and other work experiences that molded him into the person he is today. A person who wears multiple hats, the author has composed music, written songs, written lyrics for songs, made the master arrangements for piano rolls, done artwork when he was young, written articles for magazines, had a photo business, had a leather craft business, had a nail head business for clothing, was a clothing cutter in the garment line, learned flying, and became a land sea glider pilot with a
