Reclaiming Liberalism David F. Hardwick, Leslie Marsh, 2020-02-19 David Hardwick and Leslie Marsh have assembled a contentious collection of independent thinkers on liberalism's identity and prospects Should liberalism be democratic classical ordo legalistic culture based market based or what The international crew of authors from Australia Canada China and the USA draw upon the insights of key historic figures from Locke to Montesquieu to Burke to Dewey to Hayek to Rawls and of course others given liberalism's rich history and they leave us with a set of liberalisms both in collision and in overlapping agreement This book is stimulating reading for those engaged with next generation liberal thought Stephen R C Hicks Professor of Philosophy at Rockford University This collection redresses the conceptual hubris and illiteracy that has come to obscure the central presuppositions of classical liberalism that is the wresting of epistemic independence from overwhelming concentrations of power monopolies and capricious zealotries whether they be statist religious or corporate in character Trading the Trend (Collection), 2012 Finding Malaysia Zairil Khir Johari, Some of the most engaging contemporary writing has seen the transformation of the political column into a literary art form an important way of taking in the world and thinking deeply about it In his first collection of essays Zairil Khir Johari offers quick witted and focused reflections on some of the most pressing and contentious issues of the day At the heart of the matter is the bane of Malaysian politics the ethnic question from which he explores a range of high profile issues identity secularism federalism the economy good governance and education After sixty years of nationhood Zairil finds much that is wrong with Malaysia Its eccentricities are by no means benign Yet these essays also offer answers to his own assertion that we need to move beyond this At once both philosophical and practical Finding Malaysia lays down a marker for any serious debate over the future trajectory of the country The Global Financial Crisis and Its Aftermath A.G. Malliaris, Leslie Shaw, Hersh Shefrin, 2016-09-06 In The Global Financial Crisis contributors argue that the complexity of the Global Financial Crisis challenges researchers to offer more comprehensive explanations by extending the scope and range of their traditional investigations To achieve this the volume views the financial crisis simultaneously through three different lenses economic psychological and social values Contributors offer a constructive methodology suitable for exploring financial crises They recognize how current economic analysis did not prepare academic economists business economists traders and regulators to anticipate economic and financial crises So they search more extensively within the broader discipline of economics for ideas related to crises but neglected perhaps because they were not mathematically rigorous They affirm that the complexity of financial crises necessitates complementary research Thus to put the focal purpose of this book differently they explore the Global Financial Crisis from three interconnected frameworks the standards of orthodox economic analysis Minskyan economics and the role of ideas and values in economics Values are the subject of both philosophy and psychology and can contribute to a better understanding of the Global Financial Crisis Values in general have been relatively neglected by economists This is not because there is doubt about their significance but rather because welfare economics and collective choice still operate within the neoclassical paradigm This volume argues that analyzing the value implications requires moving from the neoclassical framework to something that is broader and multidisciplinary The Innovation Blind Spot Ross Baird, 2017-09-12 Our innovation economy is broken But there s good news The ideas that will solve our problems are hiding in plain sight While big companies in the American economy have never been more successful entrepreneurial activity is near a 30 year low More businesses are dying than starting every day Investors continue to dump billions of dollars into photo sharing apps and food delivery services solving problems for only a wealthy sliver of the world s population while challenges in health food security and education grow more serious In The Innovation Blind Spot entrepreneur and venture capitalist Ross Baird argues that the innovations that truly matter don t see the light of day for reasons entirely of our own making A handful of people in a handful of cities are deciding behind closed doors which entrepreneurs get a shot to succeed And most investors are what Baird calls two pocket thinkers artificially separating their charitable work from their day job of making a profit The resulting system creates rising income inequality stifled entrepreneurial ambition social distrust and political uncertainty Our innovation problem makes all our other problems harder to solve In this book Baird demonstrates how and where to find better ideas by lifting up people places and industries that are often overlooked What s more Baird ultimately outlines how to create long term success through one pocket thinking eliminating the blind spot that separates what we do for a living and what we really care about

The Noosphere Mike Hockney, 2013-08-26 The Noosphere is a thinking atmosphere that has been evolving on Earth since the dawn of humanity The internet is a physical manifestation of it a worldwide linked network What comes next Does mind detach itself from bodies Can the collective consciousness of humanity leave Earth and enter the heavens Is the Noosphere a Soul Sphere composed of the souls of all good people and leaving behind the evil Imagine the Soul Sphere merging with God Is that the ultimate destiny of higher humanity The Noosphere will not be powered by faith prayers or superstition Ontological mathematics and hyperreason will be its engines This is the story of the highest human thought how it s leaving behind materialism and realizing the truth of existence that we inhabit an immortal indestructible mental Singularity outside space and time and that the illusion of materialism is produced by holography The universe is a self generating intelligent living hologram comprised of infinite souls
