The Planetary Clock Paul Giles, 2021-02-11 The theme of The Planetary Clock is the representation of time in postmodern culture and the way temporality as a global phenomenon manifests itself differently across an antipodean axis To trace postmodernism in an expansive spatial and temporal arc from its formal experimentation in the 1960s to environmental concerns in the twenty first century is to describe a richer and more complex version of this cultural phenomenon Exploring different scales of time from a Southern Hemisphere perspective with a special emphasis on issues of Indigeneity and the Anthropocene The Planetary Clock offers a wide ranging revisionist account of postmodernism reinterpreting literature film music and visual art of the post 1960 period within a planetary framework By bringing the culture of Australia and New Zealand into dialogue with other Western narratives it suggests how an antipodean impulse involving the transposition of the world into different spatial and temporal dimensions has long been an integral if generally occluded aspect of postmodernism Taking its title from a Florentine clock designed in 1510 to measure worldly time alongside the rotation of the planets The Planetary Clock ranges across well known American postmodernists John Barth Toni Morrison to more recent science fiction writers Octavia Butler Richard Powers while bringing the US tradition into juxtaposition with both its English Philip Larkin Ian McEwan and Australian Les Murray Alexis Wright counterparts By aligning cultural postmodernism with music Messiaen Ligeti Birtwistle the visual arts Hockney Blackman Fiona Hall and cinema Rohmer Haneke Tarantino this volume enlarges our understanding of global postmodernism for the twenty first century

Slade House David Mitchell, 2015-10-27 The New York Times bestseller by the author of The Bone Clocks and Cloud Atlas Named One of the Best Books of the Year by San Francisco Chronicle NPR Los Angeles Times The Guardian The Telegraph National Post BookPage and Kirkus Reviews Keep your eyes peeled for a small black iron door Down the road from a working class British pub along the brick wall of a narrow alley if the conditions are exactly right you ll find the entrance to Slade House A stranger will greet you by name and invite you inside At first you won t want to leave Later you ll find that you can t Every nine years the house s residents an odd brother and sister extend a unique invitation to someone who s different or lonely a precocious teenager a recently divorced policeman a shy college student But what really goes on inside Slade House For those who find out it s already too late Spanning five decades from the last days of the 1970s to the present leaping genres and barreling toward an astonishing conclusion this intricately woven novel will pull you into a reality warping new vision of the haunted house story as only David Mitchell could imagine it Praise for Slade House A fiendish delight Mitchell is something of a magician The Washington Post Entertainingly eerie We turn to Mitchell for brain tickling puzzle palaces for character studies and for language Chicago Tribune A ripping yarn Like Shirley Jackson s Hill House or the Overlook Hotel from Stephen King s The Shining Slade House is a thin sliver of hell designed to entrap the unwary As the Mitchellverse grows ever more expansive and connected this short but powerful novel hints at still more marvels to come San Francisco Chronicle Like Stephen King in a fever manically ingenious The Guardian U K A haunted house story that savors of Dickens Stephen King J K Rowling and H P Lovecraft but possesses more psychic voltage than any of them Pittsburgh Post Gazette Tightly crafted and suspenseful yet warmly human the ultimate spooky nursery tale for adults The Huffington Post

The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels Eva-Maria Windberger,2023-07-17 The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell s Novels combines the investigation of David Mitchell s novels with the introduction of a new critical concept to literary studies empowerment Aiming to situate and establish empowerment firmly within the context of literary studies it offers the first framework and definition for reading fictional texts with the lens of empowerment and applies it in the analysis of discourse the fictional characters and the role of the reader in Mitchell s novels Drawing on narratological analysis cognitive approaches to literature and reader response theory it features close readings of Cloud Atlas 2004 Black Swan Green 2006 and The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet 2010 and dissects the author s strategies poetics and agenda of empowering fiction This book argues for an inherent indissoluble connection between empowerment and the telling of stories and demonstrates how literary studies can benefit from a serious engagement with empowerment and how such an engagement can stimulate new responses to fiction and put literary studies in conversation with other disciplines

Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 James Acheson,2017-01-17 Focuses on the novels published since 2000 by twenty major British novelists The Contemporary British Novel Since 2000 is divided into five parts with the first part examining the work of four particularly well known and highly regarded twenty first century writers Ian McEwan David Mitchell Hilary Mantel and Zadie Smith It is with reference to each of these novelists in turn that the terms arealist apostmodernist ahistorical and apostcolonialist fiction are introduced while in the remaining four parts other novelists are discussed and the meaning of the terms amplified From the start it is emphasised that these terms and others often mean different things to different novelists and that the complexity of their novels often obliges us to discuss their work with reference to more than one of the terms Also discusses the works of Maggie O Farrell Sarah Hall A L Kennedy Alan Warner Ali Smith Kazuo Ishiguro Kate Atkinson Salman Rushdie Adam Foulds Sarah Waters James Robertson Mohsin Hamid Andrea Levy and Aminatta Forna

Critical Modesty in Contemporary Fiction Thom Dancer,2021-09-09 From climate catastrophe to pandemics and economic crises the problems facing humanity can feel impossible to solve Critical Modesty in Contemporary Fiction argues that contemporary fiction helps those who may feel despair at the enormity of such problems not as usually assumed through the ambitious search for grand solutions but rather by cultivating a temperament of modesty This new temperament of critical modesty locates the fight for freedom and human dignity within the limited and compromised conditions in which we find ourselves Through readings of Ian McEwan Zadie Smith J M Coetzee and David Mitchell Critical Modesty in Contemporary Fiction advances a claim for the value of temperament in general as a crucial analytic for understanding contemporary experience as well as for a particular temperament of critical modesty as crucial in negotiating the limits of critical and human agency that constitute our daily lives Exploring modest forms of entangled human agency that represent an alternative to the novel of the large scale that have been most closely associated with the Anthropocene this volume makes the surprising case that by adopting a modest stance the novel has the potential to play a more important socio cultural role than it has done In doing so it offers an engaging response to the debate over critical and surface readings bringing novels themselves into the conversation and arguing for a fictional mode that is both critical and modest reminding us how much we are already engaged with the world implicated and compromised before we start developing theories writing stories or acting within it

Time and Literature Thomas M. Allen, 2018-03-29 Time and Literature features twenty essays on topics from aesthetics and narratology to globalisation and queer temporalities and showcases how time studies often referred to as the temporal turn cut across and illuminate research in every field of literature as well as interdisciplinary approaches drawing upon history philosophy anthropology and the natural sciences Part one Origins addresses fundamental issues that can be traced back to the beginnings of literary criticism Part two Developments shows how thinking about Time has been crucial to various interpretive revolutions that have impacted literary theory Part three Application illustrates the centrality of temporal theorising to literary criticism in a variety of contemporary approaches from ecocriticism and new materialisms to media and archive studies The first anthology to provide a synthesis of recent scholarship on the temporality of literary language from across different national and historical periods Time and Literature will appeal to academic researchers and interested laypersons alike

Law, Fiction and Activism in a Time of Climate Change Nicole Rogers, 2019-08-14 The book examines the narratives of climate change which have developed and which are currently evolving in three areas law fiction and activism Narratives of climate change generated by litigants judges writers of fiction and activists are having and will have a profound effect on the way we respond to the climate change crisis Acknowledging the prevalence of unreliable narrators this book explores the reliability and significance of different forms of climate narrative The author analyses overlapping themes and points of intersection considering the recurrent motif of the trickster the prominence of the child the significance and ongoing viability of the rights discourse and the increasingly prevalent emergency framing with its multiple implications for law's empire She asks how law fiction and activism measure up as textual and performative fora for telling the story of climate change and anticipating a climate changed future And in addition how can they help foster transformative narratives which empower us to confront the climate change crisis This highly topical cross disciplinary work will be of interest to anyone concerned about the growing climate emergency and makes a valuable contribution to climate law environmental law the environmental humanities and ecocriticism

A Temporary Future: The Fiction of David Mitchell Patrick O'Donnell, 2015-01-29 Having emerged as one the leading contemporary British writers David Mitchell is rapidly taking his place amongst British novelists with the gravitas of an Ishiguro or a McEwan Written for a wide constituency of readers of contemporary literature A
