Shiveley,Phillip J. VanFossen,2001-09-30 Teachers of political science social studies and economics as well as school library media specialists will find this resource invaluable for incorporating the Internet into their classroom lessons Over 150 primary source Web sites are referenced and paired with questions and activities designed to encourage critical thinking skills Completing the activities for the lessons in this book will allow students to evaluate the source of information the content presented and its usefulness in the context of their assignments Along with each Web site a summary of the site s contents identifies important primary source documents such as constitutions treaties speeches court cases statistics and other official documents The questions and activities invite the students to log on to the Web site read the information presented interact with the data and analyze it critically to answer such questions as Who created this document Is the source reliable How is the information useful and how does it relate to present day circumstances If I were in this situation would I have responded the same way as the person in charge Strengthening these critical thinking skills will help prepare students for both college and career in the 21st century Focus: Middle School Economics Mary C. Suiter,Joanne Dempsey,Mary Ann B. Pettit,Mary Lynn Reiser,1996 Curriculum guide for economics education in grades 6 8 based on Economics America from the National Council on Economic Education Economic Lessons from the Transition: The Basic Theory Re-examined Daniel R. Kazmer,Michele Konrad,2016-09-16 Economic Lessons from the Transition focuses on major transitions in the 1990s the transition from central planning and communism to market capitalism and the global integration of national financial systems The transitions were supposed to raise most peoples standard of living instead they dramatically worsened the lives of most people in the countries involved While most attempts to explain this failure focus on policies the authors of this book argue that failure of economic theory to fully understand these transitions has led to bad policies that made the transitions unnecessarily painful and costly The book suggests answers to the following questions How should basic economic theory as taught in introductory economics courses be revised in light of the failure of market oriented economics to effect a successful transition in so many former communist economies Could the theory be revised and presented in a different manner How can basic economic theory be used to help explain the past failures in understanding transition problems and to avoid future mistakes This volume is a must read for all who teach economics or apply economics to the real world Nordic Lessons for an Inclusive Recovery? Responses to the Impact of COVID-19 on the Labour Market OECD,2023-03-16 This report examines the impact of the COVID 19 pandemic on Nordic labour markets and the associated policy responses undertaken in the areas of unemployment benefits job retention schemes active labour market policies and skill development policies The report discusses the details of these policy measures across Nordic countries and draws out the main lessons learned from their response to the crisis The Lessons Of Modern War Anthony H Cordesman,Abraham Wagner,2020-01-08 This volume the first in a series of three covers the lessons of the 1973 1989 Arab Israeli arms race and of the conflicts of 1973 and 1982 It draws on interviews with Arab and Israeli sources and reveals that if truth is the first casualty of war then history is the first casualty of peace Long-term care financing: lessons for low- and middle-income settings. Brief 3. How countries finance long-term care World Health Organization,2024-03-13 History of the Eighties--lessons for the Future ,1997 Long-term care financing: lessons for low- and middle-income settings. Brief 1. Drivers of the demand for long-term care World Health Organization,2024-02-02 This brief is part of a series about financing health and social long term care lessons for low and middle income countries LMICs The number of people aged 65 years and older will increase in LMICs where most older people will be living by 2050 Many people in LMICs will experience the onset of age related health problems before the age of 65 years Long term care LTC can include some acute care medical services delivered in health facilities but it primarily refers to support provided outside of the health system by caregivers in institutions or at home to allow people to maintain their routine activities Individuals unmet needs increase the demand for LTC Without formal LTC services and systems the costs of LTC shift to the family Informal caregivers primarily women may need to reduce their working hours or leave the labour force prematurely placing pressure on the economy and household resources The availability of informal caregivers has declined along with decreases in fertility and family sizes and increased opportunities for women in the formal workforce In the absence of formal LTC services and systems individuals seek care in the acute care medical system which can increase health care costs while offering suboptimal care for older adults People underestimate their need for LTC even though many may require intensive support or institutional care that may exceed their income Given the market failures of LTC insurance public intervention is well justified to meet this demand The Lessons of East Asia Danny M. Leipziger,Vinod Thomas,1993-01-01 East Asian policies that fostered economic growth reduced poverty and raised living standards are the main theme of this cogent overview Seven newly industrialized economies NIEs are described and compared They are Hong Kong Indonesia Korea Malaysia Singapore Taiwan and Thailand These country studies examine the macroeconomic policies common to NIEs They review the highly flexible government interventions that succeeded in developing key industries and the more aggressive interventions that led to failure The role foreign direct investment plays in producing dramatic growth is also discussed Also available in Spanish ISBN 0 8213 2743 7 Stock No 12743 Debt Defaults and Lessons from a Decade of Crises Federico Sturzenegger, Jeromin Zettelmeyer, 2007-01-05 Detailed case studies of debt defaults by Russia Ukraine Pakistan Ecuador Moldova and Uruguay framed by a comprehensive discussion of the history economic theory legal issues and policy lessons of sovereign debt crises The debt crises in emerging market countries over the past decade have given rise to renewed debate about crisis prevention and resolution In Debt Defaults and Lessons from a Decade of Crises Federico Sturzenegger and Jeromin Zettelmeyer examine the facts the economic theory and the policy implications of sovereign debt crises They present detailed case histories of the default and debt crises in seven emerging market countries between 1998 and 2005 Russia Ukraine Pakistan Ecuador Argentina Moldova and Uruguay These accounts are framed with a comprehensive overview of the history economics and legal issues involved and a discussion from both domestic and international perspectives of the policy lessons that can be derived from these experiences Sturzenegger and Zettelmeyer examine how each crisis developed what the subsequent restructuring encompassed and how investors and the defaulting country fared They discuss the new theoretical thinking on sovereign debt and the ultimate costs entailed for both debtor countries and private creditors The policy debate is considered first from the perspective of policymakers in emerging market countries and then in terms of international financial architecture The authors surveys of legal and economic issues associated with debt crises and of the crises themselves are the most comprehensive to be found in the literature on sovereign debt and default and their theoretical analysis is detailed and nuanced The book will be a valuable resource for investors as well as for scholars and policymakers

Lessons from Europe? R. Daniel Kelemen, 2014-02-05 What can American policymakers learn from the experiences of European democracies While we can look to our own history and to the ideas emanating from our own public sphere by looking abroad we can also learn lessons from European policies from both those that have proven successful and those that have failed The contributors in this volume examine the ways our European allies have dealt with issues such as rising healthcare and pension costs large scale immigration childcare and work life balance and climate change and ask whether such policies might prove effective in the U S context Brief and engaging R Daniel Kelemen's Lessons from Europe What Americans Can Learn from European Public Policies is an ideal supplement for comparative public policy courses and would add a provocative comparative component to U S public policy courses

Lessons from Forest Decentralization Carol Colfer Pierce J, Ganga Dahal Ram, Doris Capistrano, 2012 The decentralization of control over the vast forests of the world is moving at a rapid pace with both positive and negative ramifications for people and forests themselves The fresh research from a host of Asia Pacific countries described in this book presents rich and varied experience with decentralization and provides important lessons for other regions Beginning with historical and geographical overview chapters the book proceeds to more in depth coverage of the region's countries Research findings stress rights roles and responsibilities on the one hand and organization capacity building infrastructure and legal aspects on the other With these overarching themes in mind the authors take on many controversial topics and address practical challenges related to financing and reinvestment in sustainable forest management under decentralized governance Particular efforts have been made to examine decentralization scales from the local to the national and to address gender issues The result is a unique examination of decentralization issues in forestry with clear lessons for policy social equity forest management research development and conservation in forested areas across the globe from the tropics to temperate regions Published with CIFOR Lessons from the Poor Alvaro Vargas Llosa, James D. Gwartney, 2008-05-01 An important contribution to the literature of economic development this book presents case studies of productive entrepreneurship in contemporary Africa and Latin America It looks at the growth of Kenya's chain stores and one person kiosks the rise of barter clubs in Argentina and Nigeria's clothing design industry to illustrate economists' insights about entrepreneurship and the role that government regulations often play in impeding economic development Half the people in the world live on two dollars or less per day and roughly 600 million live on no more than one dollar per day With thousands of international relief organizations strategic government programs and billions of dollars in foreign aid why do so many underdeveloped countries remain unable to grow their economies beyond mere survival It is this issue that internationally acclaimed political analyst Alvaro Vargas Llosa and a select group of economists examine in a series of case studies from around the world These studies reveal that entrepreneurial energy can be a persistent catalyst for change But unfortunately in societies dominated by political corruption and unnecessary regulation men and women seeking to innovate must hurdle a series of challenges Wealth transfer favoritism excessive taxation and lack of institutional security all conspire against progress Our contributors examine real world examples of entrepreneurship and argue that instead of redistributing existing wealth developing countries should start working to create it
