When Is Admission For Makerere University Intake 2015:

Research Universities in Africa Nico Cloete, Ian Bunting, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa

Sharing Higher Education's Promise beyond the Few in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter Darvas, Shang Gao, Yijun Shen, Bilal Bawany, 2017-11-15 Despite a spectacular expansion of the higher education sector in Sub Saharan Africa the supply of tertiary education has generally failed to keep pace with demand and the region continues to lag all other regions in terms of access to tertiary education This is in part a consequence of deeply entrenched patterns of inequitable access to higher education and the perpetuation of what researchers refer to as elite systems To date access to tertiary education in Sub Saharan Africa has unduly benefitted students drawn from the region's wealthiest households and overall enrollment remains disproportionately male and metropolitan These factors stifle the catalytic potential of higher education corroding its potential for driving economic growth and sustaining poverty reduction Instead patterns of access to tertiary education have generally reinforced and reproduced social inequality instead of eroding its pernicious social and economic effects This report aims to inform an improved understanding of equity in tertiary enrollment in Sub Saharan African countries and to examine the extent to which inequity functions as a bottleneck inhibiting the ability of African universities to effectively drive improvements in overall quality of life and economic competitiveness In our survey of the evidence we also aim to identify which policies most effectively address the challenge of promoting equity of access in SSA tertiary education systems In order to achieve these objectives the report collects generates and analyzes empirical evidence on patterns of equity examines the underlying causes of inequity and evaluates government policies for addressing inequity Transforming Higher Education for Community Development, 2025-07-10 This volume explores educational transformation as a tool for community development in northern Uganda with an emphasis on student centred hybrid and problem based learning It addresses key questions about existing education systems the need for transformation desired outcomes and foreseeable challenges The introductory chapter contextualises the reforms within Uganda s colonial history while subsequent chapters analyse institutional practices curriculum design quality of education and innovation in teaching and learning The book argues for new participatory learning infrastructures real world problems and curricular entrepreneurship to enhance graduates employability and position them as active contributors to community development The book is the result of a long term partnership between universities Contributors are Rozalba Aciro Agatha Alidri Helen Christine Waiswa Amongin Adebua Asaf Judith Awacorach Jerry Bagaya Peter Kakubeire Baguma Abola Benard Ann Bygholm Helene Balslev Clausen Lone Dirckinck Holmfeld Betty Akullu Ezati Cornelia Thea Seger Jakobsen Iben Jensen Annebeth Colic Landsvig Inger Lassen Stephen Odama Denis Ofoyuru Collins Okello Charles Nelson Okumu John Bismarck Okumu David Ross Olanya David Onen Joseph Oonyu George Ladaah Openjuru George Orangi Palle Rasmussen Arne Remmen Frida Skovgaard S rensen Geoffery Olok Tabo Wycliffe Scot Wafula and Hanan Lassen Zakaria

Moses,2014-04-04 Affirmative Action Matters focuses specifically on affirmative action policies in higher education admissions the sphere that has been the most controversial in many of the nations that have such policies It brings together distinguished scholars from diverse nations to examine and discuss the historical political and philosophical contexts of affirmative action and clarify policy developments to further the meaningful equality of educational opportunity This unique volume includes both well established and emerging policies from the Americas Europe Africa and Asia policies which developed under a variety of political systems and target a range of underrepresented groups based on race ethnicity gender class social background or region Accessible and thought provoking case studies of affirmative action demonstrate that such policies are expanding to different countries and target populations While some countries such as India have affirmative action policies that predate those in the United States affirmative action is a recent development in countries such as Brazil and France Legal or political pressures to move away from explicitly race based policies in several countries have complicated affirmative action and make this assessment of international alternatives particularly timely New or newly modified policies target a variety of disadvantaged groups based on geography class or caste in addition to race or sex International scholars in six countries spanning five continents offer insights into their own countries experiences to examine the implications of policy shifts from race toward other categories of disadvantage to consider best practices in student admission policies and to assess the future of affirmative action
