Solving Problems

Through Technical and Professional Writing George E. Kennedy, Tracy T. Montgomery, 1993 Using a problem solving approach this book emphasizes the connection between writing and learning learning to solve problems in and through technical communication The text stresses the importance of the environment which consists of such elements as the purpose of the document the audience at which it is directed the organizational culture in which it is produced and time constraints Practical real world cases set the framework for each chapter involving students in the processes of communication and problem analysis solution Contemporary technology communication theory is highlighted throughout and in addition the book's emphasis on value and ethics should give students a balanced view of the connection between technology and humanities

Working through Surveillance and Technical Communication Sarah Young, 2023-04-01 What is surveillance and why should we care Why are those who use technology susceptible to being both agents and targets of contemporary surveillance practices Working Through Surveillance and Technical Communication addresses these questions discussing what it means to engage in surveillance examining why this participation may be problematic and offering entry points into assessing one's ethical and socially just involvement with surveillance Further the book suggests ways to resist both individually and collectively and it offers pedagogical entry points for those looking to talk about surveillance with others Led by the central questions How are technical communicators also surveillance workers and Why does this matter for technical communication and surveillance scholarship the text uses the example of Edward Snowden to illustrate how technical communicators and surveillance workers exist on an often overlapping range Sarah Young highlights the potentially discriminatory nature of surveillance and argues that recognizing and evaluating surveillance is increasingly important in a data driven world Open Access funded by Erasmus University Rotterdam Library in support of open science initiatives It can be found in the SUNY Open Access Repository at a href <https://soar.suny.edu/handle/20.500.12648/8546>

Design Thinking in Technical Communication Jason Tham, 2021-05-18 This book explicates the relationships between design thinking critical making and socially responsive technical communication It leverages the recent technology powered DIY culture called the Maker Movement to identify how citizen innovation can inform cutting edge social innovation that advocates for equitable change and progress on today's wicked problems After offering a succinct account of the origin and recent history of design thinking along with its connections to the design paradigm in writing studies the book analyzes maker culture and its influences on innovation and education through an ethnographic study of three academic makerspaces It offers opportunities to cultivate a sense of critical changemaking in technical communication students and practitioners showcasing examples of socially responsive innovation and expert interviews that urge a disciplinary attention to social justice advocacy and an embrace of the design thinking principle of radical collaboration The value of design thinking methodologies for teaching and practicing socially responsible technical communication are demonstrated as the author argues for a future in the field that sees its constituents as leaders in radical innovation to solve wicked social problems This book is essential reading for instructors students and practitioners of technical communication and can be used as a supplemental text for graduate and undergraduate courses in usability and user centered design and research

Technical Communication After the Social Justice Turn Rebecca Walton, Kristen Moore, Natasha Jones, 2019-05-16 This is the first scholarly monograph marking the social justice turn in technical and professional communication TPC Social justice often draws attention to structural oppression but to enact social justice as technical communicators first we must be able to trace daily practice to the oppressive structures it professionalizes codifies and normalizes Technical Communication After the Social Justice Turn moves readers from conceptual explorations of oppression and justice to a theoretical framework that allows for the concepts to be applied and implemented in a variety of practical contexts It historicizes the recent social justice turn in TPC scholarship models a social justice approach to building theories and heuristics and presents scenarios that illustrate how to develop sustainable practices of activism and social justice Its commitment to coalition building inclusivity and socially just practices of citation and activism will support scholars teachers and practitioners not only in understanding how the work of technical communication is often complicit in oppression but also in recognizing revealing rejecting and replacing oppressive practices Signs, Genres, and Communities in Technical Communication M. Jimmie Killingsworth, Michael Gilbertson, 2018-12-20 This important new text invites readers to step back from their busy professional lives and look at technical communication philosophically to ask fundamental questions such as what does it mean to communicate and how do language and graphics the signs or tools of the technical communicator relate to action in a technological world Through this excursion in the theory of technical discourse you will discover a fresh approach to reports manuals and proposals produced and consumed daily in business government and research organizations around the world The authors examine familiar genres in two relatively new ways The Routledge Handbook of Language and Professional Communication Vijay Bhatia, Stephen Bremner, 2014-02-24 The Routledge Handbook of Language and Professional Communication provides a broad coverage of the key areas where language and professional communication intersect and gives a comprehensive account of the field The four main sections of the Handbook cover Approaches to Professional Communication Practice Acquisition of Professional Competence Views from the Professions This invaluable reference book incorporates not only an historical view of the field but also looks to possible future developments Contributions from international scholars and practitioners focusing on specific issues explore the major approaches to professional communication and bring into focus recent research This is the first handbook of language and professional communication to account for both pedagogic and practitioner perspectives and as such is an essential reference for postgraduate students and those researching and working in the areas of applied linguistics and professional communication Posthuman Praxis in Technical Communication Kristen R. Moore, Daniel P. Richards, 2018-01-19 This collection aimed at scholars teachers and practitioners in technical communication focuses on the praxis based connections between technical communication and theoretical movements that have emerged in the past several decades namely new materialism and posthumanism It provides a much needed link between contemporary theoretical discussions about new materialisms and posthumanism and the practical everyday work of technical communicators The collection insists that where some theoretical perspectives fall flat for practitioners posthumanism and new materialisms have the potential to enable more effective and comprehensive practices methodologies and pedagogies Rhetoric and Experience

Communicating Project Management Benjamin Lauren, 2018-03-22 Communicating Project Management argues that the communication practices of project managers have necessarily become participatory made up of complex strategies and processes solidly grounded in rhetorical concepts The book draws on case studies across organizational contexts and combines individual experiences to investigate how project management relies on communication as teams develop products services and internal processes The case studies also provide examples of how project managers can be understood and studied as writers further arguing project managers must approach communication as designed experience that must be intentionally inclusive Author Benjamin Lauren illustrates to readers how teams work together to manage projects through complex coordinative communication practices and highlights how project managers are constantly learning and evolving by analyzing where they succeed and fail He concludes that technical and professional communicators have a pivotal role in supporting and facilitating participative approaches to communicating project management

Reclaiming Accountability Wendy Sharer, Tracy Ann Morse, Michelle F. Eble, William P. Banks, 2016-04-06 Reclaiming Accountability brings together a series of critical case studies of writing programs that have planned implemented and or assessed the impact of large scale accreditation supported initiatives The book reimagines accreditation as a way to leverage institutional or programmatic change Contributions to the volume are divided into three parts Part 1 considers how specialists in composition and rhetoric can work most productively with accrediting bodies to design assessments and initiatives that meet requirements while also helping those agencies to better understand how writing develops and how it can most effectively be assessed Parts 2 and 3 present case studies of how institutions have used ongoing accreditation and assessment imperatives to meet student learning needs through programmatic changes and faculty development They provide concrete examples of productive curricular part 2 and instructional part 3 changes that can follow from accreditation mandates while providing guidance for navigating challenges and pitfalls that WPAs may encounter within shifting and often volatile local regional and national contexts In addition to providing examples of how others in the profession might approach such work Reclaiming Accountability addresses assessment requirements beyond those in the writing program itself It will be of interest to department heads administrators writing program directors and those involved with writing teacher education among others Contributors Linda Adler Kassner William P Banks Remica Bingham Risher Melanie Burdick Polina Chemishanova Malkiel Choseed Kyle Christiansen Angela Crow Maggie Debelius Michelle F Eble Jonathan Elmore Lorna Gonzalez Angela Green Jim Henry Ryan Hoover Rebecca Ingalls Cynthia Miecznikowski Susan Miller Cochran Cindy Moore Tracy Ann Morse Joyce Magnotto Neff Karen Nulton Peggy O Neill Jessica
