Living with Frailty Shibley Rahman, 2018-09-03 Increasingly we question what makes us healthy as well as what makes us ill. What does this shift mean for frailty? Almost wholly defined in negative terms, the term frail tends to refer to a group of older people who are at highest risk of adverse outcomes such as falls, infections, disability, admission to hospital or the need for long-term care. This ground-breaking book takes a holistic approach to frailty. It connects the medical literature with the wider social science discourse on ageing and focuses on promoting wellbeing and the building up of strengths. Living with Frailty draws together the latest biomedical evidence and good practice in this emerging area and explores ideas about assets and resilience, the role of society and the social model of disability in relation to frailty, arguing that insufficient attention is paid to positive action such as developing bone strength, maintaining good nutrition and exercising. Chapters look at existing models of frailty, person-centred care, assessing frailty and quality of life, how falls and fear of falls relate to discussions of frailty, delirium and frailty, the environment and frailty, sarcopenia. Living with Frailty is an important introduction and reference for all practitioners, researchers and students with an interest in frailty, wellbeing and social approaches to health. Forewords by Professors Ken Rockwood, Dalhousie University and Adam Gordon, Nottingham University.

Muslims in Telangana G. Sudhir, M. A. Bari, Amir Ullah Khan, Abdul Shaban, 2021-04-24 This book analyses the state of development of Muslims at the regional level. It explains the linkages between the findings of global, national and state-level studies with regard to the current status of Muslims and broadens understanding of Muslims and their participation in virtually all major sectors including the economy, housing, demography, health, migration, state policy and affirmative action. The book presents the challenges faced by the community and reflects upon the socio-economic and educational conditions of Muslims in Telangana State. It presents a comparative analysis of mortality data, maternal health, delivery care and child immunization as well as reproductive health aspects and children's nutritional status. It shares valuable insights into the impacts of emigration and internal migration on health among local Muslims and presents a detailed analysis of data from the Census of India, NSSO and Commission of Inquiry on Socio-Economic and Educational Status of Muslims regarding the socio-economic and demographic situation of Muslims in Telangana as well as their opportunities for development under the newly formed state government. The book would be of great interest to scholars and researchers in development economics, sociology, politics, history, cultural studies, minority studies, Islamic studies and policy studies as well as policymakers, civil society activists and those working in media and journalism.

Neglected Plant Foods Of South Asia Tariq Ismail, Saeed Akhtar, Claudia E. Lazarte, 2023-09-18 According to the global hunger index, South Asia has the world's highest rate of undernourished people. Such a burden of food insecurity and various forms of malnutrition are directly associated with the existing food production system that ignores biodiversity, food affordability and sustainability. During the last five decades food production system has witnessed a global shift from ethnic to mainstream staple cereals production and promotion. Such an approach has badly affected the regional genetic pool of a diverse range of nourishing economical and sustainable edible plant species which are now referred to as neglected or underutilized food crops. Neglected Plant Foods of South Asia collects and preserves existing knowledge of underutilized minor wild neglected and traditional food plants of South Asia and their utilization for the production of value added food products. Aiming at introducing plant based food solutions to address the increasing burden of food insecurity among marginalized communities of South Asia, this manuscript covers a plethora of nutrient dense plant species including fruits, vegetables, roots, tubers, cereals, pseudo cereals and pulses. In addition to having an overview of each plant's origin, cultivation practices and production statistics, researchers will find comprehensive information on nutritional composition, food manufacturing properties, value addition and traditional uses of neglected plant foods. Recent updates on strategies to combat toxicological risks associated with the consumption of neglected food plants have also been included. With this volume, researchers will have complete information on neglected underutilized traditional edible plants of South Asia and their potential to increase food security under the emerging challenges of climate change.

Handbook of Research on Instructional Technologies in Health Education and Allied Disciplines Garcia, Manuel B., Lopez Cabrera, Mildred Vanessa, de Almeida, Rui Pedro Pereira, 2023-03-13. Instructional technologies used to be optional and supplemental pedagogical tools until the global health crisis of 2020 compelled education systems to rely on digital devices and services to guarantee academic continuity. Suddenly, the contemporary principles and practices utilized in delivering health education curricula were insufficient and ineffective. Acknowledging the vital role of technology in shaping the future of education, there is now a greater demand to foster innovative interventions and continuous improvement in strategies, methodologies and systems to empower learners, educators and leaders in the digital age. This paradigm shift requires a fundamental transformation in the way we approach teaching and learning and a willingness to embrace new approaches and tools that can enhance the quality of education and support student success. The Handbook of Research on Instructional Technologies in Health Education and Allied Disciplines provides comprehensive coverage of innovative methods and strategies to produce the next generation of health professionals. The book lays the groundwork for implementable teaching and learning models that facilitate knowledge acquisition, enhance perceptual variation, improve skill coordination and develop a scientific and technological mindset. Each chapter provides an in depth examination of instructional technologies contextualized in various medical and health domains including nursing, physiotherapy, radiology, neurophysiology, physical health, dentistry, clinical medicine and more. This reference work is a must read for all stakeholders in health education and related fields including educators, students, researchers, administrators and healthcare professionals.

Transnational Distance Learning and Building New Markets for Universities Hogan, Robert, 2012-02-29. When online learning began more than two decades ago, many universities envisioned the creation of international student markets but this has only recently become a reality The emergence of a global economy advances in technology increased market competition reduced funding and the growing desire for degrees from internationally recognized universities have created opportunities that promote transnational degrees Transnational Distance Learning and Building New Markets for Universities presents the opportunities methods issues and risks involved in extending university education across national borders It is important to understand cultural financial and legal issues as well as management approaches academic delivery options and business considerations needed to create quality programs that are marketable and cost effective in reaching emerging international markets The purpose of the book is to review how to reach emerging international markets increase access to education and do so at a profit

Community Nutrition for Developing Countries Norman J. Temple ,Nelia Steyn,2016-03-31 Nutrition textbooks used by universities and colleges in developing countries have very often been written by scholars who live and work in North America or the United Kingdom And while the research and information they present is sound the nutrition related health challenges with which developing countries must grapple differ considerably from those found in highly industrialized Western nations The primary aim of Community Nutrition for Developing Countries is to provide a book that meets the needs of nutritionists and other health professionals living and working in developing countries Written by both scholars and practitioners the volume draws on their wealth of knowledge experience and understanding of nutrition in developing countries to provide nutrition professionals with all the information they require Each chapter addresses a specific nutrition challenge currently faced by developing countries such as food security food safety disease prevention maternal health and effective nutrition policy In addition the volume serves as an invaluable resource for those developing and implementing nutrition education programmes With an emphasis on nutritional education as a means to prevent disease and effectively manage health disorders it is the hope of the nearly three dozen contributors to this work that it will enhance the health and well being of low income populations throughout the world

Insights Into Brown Adipose Tissue Functions and Browning Phenomenon Rita De Matteis,Paula Oliver,Assunta Lombardi,2020-04-20 Queer and Trans African Mobilities B Camminga,John Marnell,2022-06-16 Winner ASR Best Africa Focused Edited Collection by the African Studies Review Recent years have seen increased scholarly and media interest in the cross border movements of LGBT persons particularly those seeking protection in the Global North While this has helped focus attention on the plight of individuals fleeing homophobic or transphobic persecution it has also reinvigorated racist tropes about the Global South In the case of Africa the expansion of anti LGBT laws and the prevalence of hetero patriarchal discourses are regularly cited as evidence of an inescapable savagery The figure of the LGBT refugee often portrayed as helplessly awaiting rescue reinforces colonial notions about the continent and its peoples Queer and Trans African Mobilities draws on diverse case studies from the length and breadth of Africa offering the first in depth investigation of LGBT migration on and from the continent The collection provides new insights into the drivers and impacts of displacement linked to sexual orientation or gender identity and challenges notions about why LGBT Africans move where they are going and what they experience along the way The Impact of MOOCs on Distance Education in Malaysia and Beyond Mohamed Ally, Mohamed Amin Embi, Helmi Norman, 2019-02-26 This book provides theoretical and empirical discussions around the impact of MOOCs and other pedagogical strategies for online learning in international contexts Through discussions of inverse blended learning and other teaching and learning approaches Part I navigates the pressing conceptual issues around global online education By analyzing the Malaysia MOOC Initiative the first governmental MOOC project in the world Part II offers insight into the developmental strategies learning design and integrative approaches of these pioneering efforts Edited by leading scholars in the field of globalized online learning this volume offers a valuable contribution to research around collaborative initiatives between governments and universities especially ones dedicated to open and distance education Decolonising the Future Academy in Africa and Beyond Michaela Pelican, Karim Zafer, Michael Bollig, 2025-02-27 What does it mean to decolonise academia in Africa Is this important project limited to the humanities Is it a project for the future Are there forerunners at African universities today The contributors to this volume show different trajectories for anthropology as a discipline and for decolonising academia across the continent and beyond They offer a variety of perspectives especially regarding collaboration between African and German scholars in the areas of research teaching and institutional development While some are hopeful and take inspiration from earlier experiences of disciplinary and methodological developments in academic decolonisation and international collaborations others remain critical and call for more radical attempts at decolonisation
