Abraham's Heirs Leonard B. Glick, 1999-01-01 Leonard B Glick recounts the history of the Ashkenazic Jewish experience in medieval western Europe from the fifth to fifteenth centuries focusing on interaction between Jews and Christians during this vital formative period He demonstrates that Ashkenazic Jewish culture was profoundly shaped and conditioned by life in an overwhelmingly Christian society Drawing on diverse Christian documents he portrays Christian beliefs about medieval Jews and Judaism with a degree of detail seldom found in Jewish histories Emphasizing social political and economic history but also discussing religious topics Glick describes the evolution of a complex inherently unequal relationship Because the Ashkenazic Jews of medieval Europe were ancestral to almost the entire Jewish population of eastern Europe their historical experience played a major role in the heritage of most Jewish Americans

The United Nations in the 1990s Peter R. Baehr, Leon Gordenker, 2016-07-27 At a time when the UN demonstrates new vitality this straightforward explanation of nearly a half century of the world organization's experience provides essential background It sets out the fundamental features of the structure of the UN and traces the political developments around such topics as maintaining international peace protecting human rights and improving economic welfare Its authors are longtime observers and recognized scholars Their transatlantic collaboration provides an extra edge of objectivity A History of European Literature Walter Cohen,2017-01-19 Walter Cohen argues that the history of European literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within Europe and by the ties of European literature to world literature World literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents Cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages Within that framework he shows that European literatures ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation European literature emerges from world literature before the birth of Europe during antiquity whose Classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of Afro Eurasia This legacy is later transmitted by Latin to the various vernaculars The uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by Romance literatures That development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of European literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the Renaissance This expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of European literature into world literature and thus in the creation of todays global literary system The distinctiveness of European literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories On the Question of the "Cessation of Prophecy" in Ancient Judaism L. Stephen Cook,2011 Revised version of the author s thesis Ph D Catholic University of America Washington D C 2009 titled The question of the cessation of prophecy in ancient Judaism Minorities in the Middle East Mordechai Nisan,1991 Over time an indelible stereotype has emerged that the Middle East is a monocultural terrain stretching from the Sahara and Morocco in the west to southern Asia and the Indus Valley in the east inhabited by Muslims alone It has become customary as well to see the area from North Africa to the Persian Gulf as inhabited by Arabs speaking the Arabic tongue The reality which this work focuses on is that across the broad expanse of the Middle East various minorities have long persevered with their unique character and way of life Pressed to persist in a threatening environment these minorities Kurds Berbers Baluchi Druzes Alawites Armenians Assyrians Maronites Sudanese Christians Jews and others share similar experiences and have been known to cooperate for shared goals Gods in the Desert Glenn S. Holland,2009-07-16 Gods in the Desert explores the fascinating religious cultures of the ancient Near East From the mysterious pyramids tombs and temples of Egypt to the powerful heroes gods and legends of Mesopotamia Glenn Holland guides readers through the early religions that are the root of many of today s major faiths Holland compares the religions of ancient Egypt Mesopotamia and Syria Palestine including Israel and Judah from the Neolithic era through the conquest of Alexander the Great He provides a historical survey of each region then discusses the gods the rulers the afterlife and the worship rituals This accessible overview makes clear how these religions converged and diverged and are intimately connected to many of the religions we recognize today sometimes in surprising ways The Routledge Encyclopedia of Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century Sorrel Kerbel, 2004-11-23 Now available in paperback for the first time Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century is both a comprehensive reference resource and a springboard for further study This volume examines canonical Jewish writers less well known authors of Yiddish and Hebrew and emerging Israeli writers includes entries on figures as diverse as Marcel Proust Franz Kafka Tristan Tzara Eugene Ionesco Harold Pinter Tom Stoppard Arthur Miller Saul Bellow Nadine Gordimer and Woody Allen contains introductory essays on Jewish American writing Holocaust literature and memoirs Yiddish writing and Anglo Jewish literature provides a chronology of twentieth century Jewish writers Compiled by expert contributors this book contains over 330 entries on individual authors each consisting of a biography a list of selected publications a scholarly essay on their work and suggestions for further reading Catalog of Copyright Entries.
