Not the Whole Story Lea Caragata, Judit Alcalde, 2014-04-18 Not the Whole Story is a compilation of sixteen stories narrated by single mothers in their own way and about their own lives Each story is unique but the same issues appear again and again Abuse parenting as single mothers challenges in the labour market mental health and addictions issues a scarcity of quality childcare immigration and status vulnerability struggles with custody and poverty these factors combined with a lack of support contribute to their continued struggles The themes that recur across stories illustrate that the issues the women face are not just about individual struggle they demonstrate that major issues in Canada's social system have been neglected in public policy In order for these issues to be addressed we need to challenge the flawed public policies and the negative discourse that continue to marginalize single mothers in terms of the opportunities in their own lives and in terms of how they are understood by other Canadians The first person narratives of the struggles and issues faced by low income single mothers provide narrative richness and are augmented by introductory and concluding chapters that draw the narrative themes together and offer overarching discussion and analysis

The women share powerful stories about their complex and diverse efforts to negotiate difficult relationships, exercise agency in restrictive circumstances and find meaning and beauty in the midst of pain. Their shared emphases on abuse, poverty, addiction and mental illness illuminate the pathways that lead many women to prison and suggest possibilities for addressing the profound social problems that fuel crime. Framing the narratives within an analytic introduction and reflective afterword, Megan Sweeney highlights the crucial intellectual work that the incarcerated women perform despite myriad restrictions on reading and education in U.S. prisons. These women use the limited reading materials available to them as sources of guidance and support and as tools for self-reflection and self-education. Through their creative engagements with books, the women learn to reframe their own life stories, situate their experiences in relation to broader social patterns, deepen their understanding of others, experiment with new ways of being and maintain a sense of connection with their fellow citizens on both sides of the prison fence. An Eight Year Goodbye Maryanne V. Scott, 2021-01-27 Samuel Valenti was an unpretentious, humble man who required very little in life to make him happy. He grew up during the Great Depression working on the family farm in New Jersey, growing tomatoes to sell to Campbell Soup Company. Seeing the Hindenburg fly over his farm, receiving visits to the farm from his cousin Anne Bancroft and serving his country in World War II were a few of the highlights of his young adult life that he spoke of often. However, marrying the love of his life and having his daughter and son were the basis of what sustained him every day as he lived the American dream of working hard and prospering. Life had always been wonderful for Sam until later in his life when he started to lose his precious memories and abilities to Alzheimer's disease. His slow cognitive decline lasted for eight long years with his children by his side helping him to navigate through the stages of the disease. An Eight Year Goodbye is the story of Sam's journey through this debilitating illness with some helpful suggestions from the author on how to handle some of the heartbreaking challenges that Alzheimer's presents. It is also a story of love and compassion as Sam's children watch their father go from the vital, independent, vibrant man that they grew up with to the feeble, confused man who was no longer able to communicate with his family. This story will touch the heart of anyone whose loved one has experienced or is experiencing the long, slow deterioration that Alzheimer's disease brings. Marriage of Inconvenience Penny Reid, 2018-03-06 Adoption Karley Spruce, 2018-08-01 Adoption: Embracing Harmony and Facing Discord is a compilation of stories shared by people involved in different sides of adoption. The relationships of the children, birth parents, adoptive parents and siblings all need to be considered as well as possible extended family. The author is an adoptive parent.

and grandparent and found that talking with others helped her process her own experiences and better understand the different layers of the adoptive realm Included in this book are perspectives from adopted persons of different ages adoptive parents and birth mothers Several accounts also include foster parent experiences The stories span the last ninety plus years are ethnically diverse and multigenerational It is the author s hope to raise social awareness about the growing need for more available support and intervention for adoptive families who struggle with serious developmental identity and behavioral issues It is imperative that we explore and develop ways to better meet these concerns both in the Christian community and in our social systems
