ExamFOCUS Court Interpreter Oral and Written Exams Study Notes 2015 ExamREVIEW,2014-12-15 Proficiency in court interpreting skills would require a high level of mastery of two languages one being English plus specific performance skills in the rules and modes of interpreting In most US states there are written and oral exams for the profession This study notes focuses on both A language pair MUST include English and a target language One is expected to possess the ability to accurately and idiomatically turn the message from the source language into the receptor language without any additions omissions or other misleading factors that alter the intended meaning of the message from the speaker Shadowing involves repeating a narrative simultaneously in a word for word manner using the same language as it is heard but without the need to transfer from one language to another Back translation requires that a candidate translates English into a foreign language and then later on translates her or his own language version of the passage back into English To be able to achieve these and other requirements the interpreter must have an excellent short term memory and be able to speak and listen at the same time This is the sort of oral language proficiency expected out of an interpreter On the other hand the written exam procedures are often state specific even though they share highly similar contents and knowledge domains Basic understanding of the US court system courtroom procedures and mastery of the English languages are all very important One must know the basic courtroom procedures in order to pass the exam In fact correct understanding of the legal procedures can help you pick the correct translation choices since you will be presented with distracter choices that are obviously wrong You are not expected to be as competent as a legal assistant in terms of legal skills HOWEVER you will not survive in the courtroom if you have no understanding of the very basic legal theories This study notes is not specific to a particular interpreter exam In other words you can use it to prepare for any US based interpreter exam Use this study notes for exam prep purpose TOGETHER WITH other resources Never rely on a single resource for guaranteeing exam success

Sign Language Interpreting and Interpreter Education Marc Marschark,Rico Peterson,Elizabeth A. Winston,Patricia Sapere,Carol M. Convertino,Rosemarie Seewagen,Christine Monikowski,2005-04-14 More the 1 46 million people in the United States have hearing losses in sufficient severity to be considered deaf another 21 million people have other hearing impairments For many deaf and hard of hearing individuals sign language and voice interpreting is essential to their participation in educational programs and their access to public and private services However there is less than half the number of interpreters needed to meet the demand interpreting quality is often variable and there is a considerable lack of knowledge of factors that contribute to successful interpreting Perhaps it is not surprising then that a study by the National Association of the Deaf NAD found that 70% of the deaf individuals are dissatisfied with interpreting quality Because recent legislation in the United States and elsewhere has mandated access to educational employment and other contexts for deaf individuals and others with hearing disabilities there is an increasing need for quality sign language interpreting It is in education however that the need is most pressing particularly because more than 75% of deaf students now attend regular schools rather than schools for the deaf where teachers and classmates are unable to sign for themselves In the more than 100 interpreter training programs in the U S alone there are a variety of educational models but little empirical information on how to evaluate them or determine their appropriateness in different interpreting and interpreter education covering what we know what we do not know and what we should know Several volumes have covered interpreting and interpreter education there are even some published dissertations that have included a single research study and a few books have attempted to offer methods for professional interpreters or interpreter educators with nods to existing research This is the first volume that synthesizes existing work and provides a coherent picture of the field as a whole including evaluation of the extent to which current practices are supported by validating research It will be the first comprehensive source suitable as both a reference book and a textbook for interpreter training programs and a variety of courses on bilingual education psycholinguistics and translation and cross linguistic studies Sales Connectiontelecourse Study Guide Gerald Manning,Marcy M. response to the conference was once more overwhelming which was partly attributed to the previous two conferences held successfully under the same title Apart from five keynote speakers over one hundred and fifty participants came from universities institutions or organizations from mainland China Spain New Zealand as well as Hong Kong and Macao to attend the event contributing over 130 papers in total Among the keynote speakers are internationally renowned scholars in translation studies such as Dr Roberto Valde n professor of English Linguistics at the University of Oviedo Spain and the Chief Editor of Perspective Studies in Translatology Dr Sun Yifeng chair professor of Translation Studies and head of the English Department at the University of Macau Dr Tan Zaixi distinguished professor of Shenzhen University and Chair Professor of Beijing Foreign Studies University and Professor Emeritus of Hong Kong Baptist University After careful evaluation and compilation 90 papers have been selected for this conference proceedings which was summarized into the following four topics Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice Translation and Cross cultural Studies Evaluation of Translation and Interpretation and Studies on the Teaching of Translation By no means is it difficult to find some interesting and thought provoking papers under each topic For example concerning Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice To Translate or not to Translate That is the Question On Metaphor Translation in Chinese Political works by Dong Yu explains that in judging whether or not a Chinese metaphor can be translated into English an indispensable step is to decide whether or not the two cultural connotations can be connected But this can easily be influenced by subjective factors Yu has suggested some ways in which subjective factors could be controlled to some extent so that the translator could be more confident in his or her decision He has also suggested three steps The first step is to assume that the cultural connotation of the Chinese metaphor can be connected with that of its English version For example the metaphor in could be translated as rain or shine The second step is to find out whether or not this translated version is acceptable both linguistically and culturally in English The third step is to consider the systematicity of the metaphor in regard with the context in both the source and target texts This involves a process of recontextualization When it comes to Translation and Cross cultural Studies On Translation of the English Guide interpreter from the Perspective of Intercultural Communication by Fengxia Liua and Xiaoning Bi points out that inbound tourism serves as a window through which foreign tourists get to know China so the interaction between the guide interpreters and foreign tourists are the typical activity of cultural communication Foreign language speaking guides are usually regarded as people to people ambassadors or cultural ambassadors who have played an essential role in the international tourist industry Therefore they argue that it is extremely important for tourist guides to cultivate their cross cultural communication awareness enhance their overall communicative competence observe and distinguish east and west differences with multi dimensional perspective transcend cultural barriers and learn to use translation skills Studies on the Teaching of Translation is another interesting topic that has attracted enormous attention such as Business Translation Teaching from the Perspective of Metaphors by Dandan Li which explores application of conceptual metaphor theory in the translation process of business lexicons business discourse and business English culture so as to provide a new perspective in business English pedagogy Another study entitled Cognitive Studies in Translation by Xin Huang analyzes the cognitive studies of translation interpreting processes over the past three decades with focus on the issues examined the findings reached as well as the recent development She explains that cognitive studies of translation process examine the translation competence on line translation behaviors such as how the eye gazes and how the words are typed and the brain activities when doing translation Special interests are paid to the working memory problem solving the executive function and some linguistic relative factors such as text difficulty Over the past thirty years the interest in the field has been gaining considerable momentum and increasing issues have been involved Finally she concludes that with the advancement of technologies and interdisciplinary approaches the black box the previously unforeseeable cognitive activities of how human process translation can be unfolded Considering the importance of integrating theory with practice the proceedings are therefore compiled in such a way as to be balanced and inclusive in the hope of summarizing current accomplishments as well as providing certain insights for teaching and further research in the field of translation and interpretation studies
