Transforming Cape Town Catherine Besteman, 2008-09-02 An engaging insightful and at times beautifully written account of post apartheid transformation in the city of Cape Town Besteman shows the continuing legacy of apartheid racial segregation and poverty in South Africa as well as glimpses of new forms of cultural creativity and identity formation that are characterized by empathy compassion and hope Transforming Cape Town deserves to be read by anthropologists and anyone interested in how people confront the challenges of racial exclusion and historical inequality and how a few bold agents of transformation seek to create new social spaces to cross old barriers Richard A Wilson author of

The Politics of Truth and Reconciliation in South Africa Cape Town and anthropology come alive in Besteman's work. Insightful, dynamic and well written, this book opens a space of trust to understanding the pains and creative innovations of transition of people, politics and daily survival in a new light. Carolyn Nordstrom, author of Global Outlaws and Shadows of War, Besteman navigates and illuminates post-apartheid Cape Town with uncommon skill. She brings to bear an anthropologist's training, a reporter's eye and ear for the choice remark, the telling detail and a candid sympathy for the disenfranchised whose lot in South Africa has not necessarily improved under democracy. It's a distressing picture she draws: the persisting mutual ignorance, even reciprocal demonization across old ethnic and racial lines alongside the ongoing economic injustice. The revolution in South Africa has been a piecemeal affair and Besteman's descriptions of the difficulties that even the best intentioned individuals encounter as they struggle toward creating a general social transformation ring painfully true. William Finnegan, author of Crossing the Line, Dateline Soweto, A Complicated War and Cold New World. Transforming Cape Town is a fascinating account of how people in this divided city engage with democracy, transformation and the legacies and ongoing realities of radical inequalities. Through conversations with ordinary people, Besteman explores the ways in which apartheid's legacies continue to shape interactions, both intimate and public. In doing so, she restores a sense of faith in anthropology as a tool for understanding and critiquing social worlds. Fiona Ross, author of Bearing Witness: Women and Truth and Reconciliation. Cape Town & Garden Route Footprint Focus Guide, Lizzie Williams, 2014-02-10. Surrounded by a spectacular mountain range and rugged beaches, Cape Town has one of the most beautiful city backdrops in the world. Footprint Focus provides invaluable information on transport, accommodation, eating and entertainment to ensure that your trip includes the best of this vibrant city. Essentials section with useful advice on getting to and around Cape Town. Comprehensive up-to-date listings of where to eat, sleep and seek adventure. Includes information on tour operators and activities from wine tasting to mountain hiking. Detailed maps for Cape Town and around. Slim enough to fit in your pocket. With detailed information on all the main sights plus many lesser known attractions, Footprint Focus Cape Town provides concise and comprehensive coverage of one of the most beautiful cities in Africa. Cape Town & Western Cape Official Travel Guide, 2008. Global Tourism, Sarah M. Lyon, E. Christian Wells, 2012-03-15. Global tourism is perhaps the largest scale movement of goods, services and people in history. Consequently, it is a significant catalyst for economic development and sociopolitical change. While tourism increasingly accounts for ever greater segments of national economies, the consequences of this growth for intercultural interaction are diverse and uncertain. The proliferation of tourists also challenges classic theoretical descriptions of just what an economy is. What are the commodities being consumed? What is the division of labor between producers and clients in creating the value of tourist exchanges? How do culture, power and history shape these interactions? What are the prospects for sustainable tourism? How is cultural heritage being shaped by tourists around the world? These critical questions inspired this volume in which the contributors explore the connections among economy sustainability heritage and identity that tourism and related processes makes explicit The volume moves beyond the limits of place specific discussions case studies and best practice examples Accordingly it is organized according to three overarching themes exploring dimensions of cultural heritage the multi faceted impacts of tourism on both hosts and guests and the nature of touristic encounters Based on ethnographic and archaeological research conducted in distinct locations the contributors conclusions and theoretical arguments reach far beyond the limits of isolated case studies Together they contribute to a new synthesis for the anthropology of tourism while simultaneously demonstrating how emerging theories of the economics of tourism can lead to the rethinking of traditionally non touristic enterprises from farming to medical occupations

This ground breaking new work draws together a cross section of South African scholars to provide a lively and comprehensive review of the under researched area of heritage practice following the introduction of the National Heritage Resources Act Looking at the daily heritage debates from naming streets to projects such as the Gateway to Robben Island Desire Lines addresses the innovative strategies that have emerged in the practice of defining identifying and developing heritage sites In a unique multi disciplinary approach contributions are featured from a broad spectrum of fields including the built environment and public culture and education Showcasing work from tour operators and museum curators alongside that of university based scholars this book is a comprehensive and singularly authoritative volume that charts the development of new and emergent public cultures in post apartheid South Africa through the making and unmaking of its urban spaces This pioneering collection of essays and case studies is an indispensable guide for those working within or studying heritage practice

Urban Tourism in the Developing World Christian Myles Rogerson,Gustav Visser, Over the past decade the field of urban tourism has consolidated with the appearance of several books that concentrate upon the Western European and North American experience Recently the scope and range of urban research has widened considerably including the welcome appearance of studies that examine the tourism phenomenon in cities outside the Euro American heartland Despite this growing international body of debate and scholarship on tourism and cities particularly in the developed North literature that relates to the developing world as a whole and to Africa in particular remains sparse The task of Urban Tourism in the Developing World The South African Experience is to augment the current international scholarship concerning urban tourism in the developing world More especially the contributors draw attention to a range of case studies from South Africa that provide some starting points to address the uneven scholarly coverage of urban tourism the African context has received to date In addition the research material presented here seeks to contribute toward raising the South African and indeed the African profile within growing international scholarship concerning issues of urban tourism and development This collection aims to expand an emerging South African and African tourism research voice concerning the tourism and development nexus as well as to stem critiques that this body of research appears to have developed in a theoretical vacuum divorced from broader international tourism research discourses This collection of essays not only further develops an independent South African tourism perspective but also presents research that is closely tied to international urban tourism research debates In addition this analysis of urban tourism in the South African context enriches the rather Western oriented theories of urban tourism discourse through its emphasis on how urban tourism is evolving in urban Africa Christian M Rogerson is professor of human geography in the School of Geography Archaeology and Environmental Studies University of the Witwatersrand Johannesburg South Africa Gustav Visser is senior lecturer in human geography in the Department of Geography University of the Free State Bloemfontein South Africa
