NASA Tech Briefs ,1996 Authorship Contested Amy E. Robillard,Ron Fortune,2015-06-12 This volume explores a dimension of authorship not given its due in the critical discourse to this point authorship contested Much of the existing critical literature begins with a text and the proposition that the text has an author The debates move from here to questions about who the author is whether or not the author s identity is even relevant and what relationship she or he does and does not have to the text The authors contributing to this collection however ask about circumstances surrounding efforts to prevent authors from even being allowed to have these questions asked of them from even being identified as authors They ask about the political cultural economic and social circumstances that motivate a prospective audience to resist an author s efforts to have a text published read and discussed Particularly noteworthy is the range of everyday rhetorical situations in which contesting authorship occurs from the production of a corporate document to the publication of fan fiction Each chapter also focuses on particular instances in which authorship has been contested demonstrating how theories about various forms of contested authorship play out in a range of events from the complex issues surrounding peer review to authorship in the age of intelligent machines U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Library System Book Catalog

The Origins of the Art and Practice of Professional Writing Kathryn Rosser Raign, 2024-04-01 The Origins of the Art and Practice of Professional Writing addresses the classic divide in teaching written skills between rhetoric composition and technical professional communication TPC It explores a body of texts that were created earlier than any yet identified by either field ancient Mesopotamian documents produced in the eighth century BCE The book debunks two myths it shows that rhetoric was practiced consciously and taught systematically long before the Greek civilization existed and because a large swathe of the public while not fully literate had access to the services of scribes not just men but women merchants and even slaves utilized writing as a tool for social justice From their earliest writings humans consciously applied principles of persuasion to the documents that they produced Rather than being two distinct fields rhetoric and professional communication are intertwined in their histories
