Unisa Short Learning Programs And Colleges:

The Dynamics of Changing Higher Education in the Global South Busani Mpofu, Sabelo

Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2020-06-29 Today there are generally universities in Africa rather than African universities. The legitimacy of the university in Africa is under serious questions now because of its complicity in racism, patriarchy, sexism, colonialism, capitalism, genocide, epistemicide, linguicide, culturecide, and alienation. In other words, the university in Africa as we know it today is elitist and exclusionary. Therefore, rethinking the idea of the university is fundamental to overcoming its current deficiencies in the Global South. This volume bringing together a number of national case studies and macro analyses on the dynamics of changing higher education in the Global South gestures towards the desired imagined decolonial African university which should be a site of multilingualism where African indigenous languages, cosmologies, and ontologies become a central part of its identity and soul, intolerant of epistemicides, linguicides, and cultural imperialism but a site of cognitive and social justice that fully embraces the idea that all human beings are born into valid, useful, relevant, and legitimate knowledge systems. (u)Mzantsi Classics Samantha Masters, Imkhitha Nzungu, Grant Parker, 2022-10-15 An Open Access edition of this book will be available on publication on the Liverpool University Press and African Minds websites. Though Greco-Roman antiquity classics has often been considered the handmaid of colonialism, its various forms have nonetheless endured through many of the continent's decolonising transitions. Southern Africa is no exception. This book canvasses the variety of forms classics has taken in Zimbabwe, Mozambique, and especially South Africa, and even the dynamics of transformation itself. How does uMzantsi classics of southern Africa look in an era of profound change, whether violent or otherwise? What are its future prospects? Contributors focus on pedagogies, historical consciousness, the creative arts, and popular culture. The volume in its overall shape responds to the idea of dialogue in both the Greek form associated with Plato's rendition of Socrates' wisdom and in the African concept of ubuntu. Here are dialogues between scholars, both emerging and established, as well as students, some of whom were directly impacted by the Fallist protests of the late 20 teens. Rather than offering an apologia for classics, these dialogues engage with pressing questions of relevance, identity, change, the canon, and the dynamics of decolonisation and potential recolonisation. The goal is to interrogate classics the ways it has been taught, studied, perceived, transformed, and even lived from many points of view.

Sustainable Development in Africa Walter

Leal Filho, Rudi Pretorius, Luiza Olim de Sousa, 2021-07-09 This book serves the purpose of documenting and promoting African experiences on sustainable development which encompasses both formal and non-formal education. Sustainable development is very important to Africa, but there is a paucity of publication which documents and promotes experiences from African countries. Due to their complexity, the interrelations between social, economic, and political factors related to sustainable development, especially at universities, need to be better understood. There is also a real need to showcase successful examples of how African institutions are handling their sustainability challenges. It is against this background that this book has been produced It is a truly interdisciplinary publication useful to scholars social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies and private companies undertaking research and or executing projects focusing on sustainability from across Africa As African nations strive to pursue the UN Sustainable Development Goals it is imperative to cater for the information needs seen across the continent and foster the dissemination of experiences and case studies which may support both on going and future efforts The scope of the book is deliberately kept wide and we are looking for contributions across the spectrum of sustainable development from business and economics to arts and fashion administration environment languages and media studies

Christian Responses to Spiritual Incursions into the 21st Century Church and Society Nikolaos Asproulis, Stuart Devenish, 2020-10-30 This volume provides an account of the surprising in breaking of spiritual life that persists in our culture despite the best efforts of atheist spokespersons and secular theorists Spirituality in its varying forms is irrepressible resisting our attempts to exclude it by continuing to seep through the cracks and leak through the gaps When it is allowed to manifest itself through the Christian faith tradition it has the power to surprise transform and renew everything it touches This volume contains a series of case studies each of which describes the inner functionings and out workings of the spiritual life as a transformative point of contact between God world society and self Each chapter contains high level inquiry drawing on best practice scholarship that is deeply aware of the needs and opportunities that confront 21st century society

African Schools as Enabling Spaces Vanessa Scherman, Linda Liebenberg, 2023-03-31 Using African schools as case studies this book presents an implementation framework that can be used by schools internationally to drive social change and support their role as enabling spaces allowing learners to thrive Recognising the increase in demands violent conflicts lack of stability and social strain prevalent within the current African school system this book covers the challenges that negatively impact children s development by understanding and presenting a framework that ensures a holistic social and educational support system can be created for students Featuring contributions from a broad range of leading scholars the book ultimately addresses the critical need in academic and practice research for the importance of schools in building civil societies Arguing for the importance of schools as places of stability social inclusivity and communities of care this book will have direct relevance to academics researchers and post graduate students in the field of education policy international and comparative education and character education Those working in school leadership management and administration environments will also benefit from this volume
