Hazara Afghans Parkes 2020 The Role of Higher Education Institutions in Climate Change Adaptation and Mitigation

Ravinesh Rohit Prasad, 2025-03-08 This book provides the readers with a description of climate change and the role of the University in promoting climate change education. It explores the Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) curriculum at various universities worldwide and how they have incorporated climate change into the university-wide programs. The book also looks at the causes and impacts of climate change and the countries most affected by this phenomenon, particularly Fiji and Indonesia. It describes how the various sectors such as health, agriculture, and tourism have been impacted by climate change. This book also summarizes the roles of United Nations Organizations in implementing climate change education at universities. The importance of climate change education is expressed in terms of adaptation and mitigation and to foster resilience, adaptability, and adaptation to climate change. The role of university student organizations aimed at environmental protection for climate change adaptation and mitigation is also discussed in this book.

Open and Distance Education in Asia, Africa and the Middle East Olaf Zawacki-Richter, Adnan Qayyum, 2019-02-18 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license. This book describes the history, structure, and institutions of open and distance education in six countries: China, India, Russia, Turkey, South Africa, and South Korea. It describes how open and distance education is evolving in a digital age to reflect the needs and circumstances of the national higher education systems in these countries. It also explores the similarities and differences between how their open and distance higher education systems are managed and structured. This book is the second in a series following Open and Distance Education in Australia, Europe, and the Americas (Springer, 2018). Both books compare and draw conclusions about the nature of open and distance education in the context of various national higher education systems. In a digital era characterized by the growing use of online open and distance education, this book will prove particularly valuable for policy makers and senior administrators who want to learn about establishing or expanding open and distance education services. In addition, it offers a valuable reference guide for researchers, academics, and students interested in understanding the different approaches to open and distance education.

Nhamo,Muchaiteyi Togo,Kaitano Dube,2021-06-16 Written by 43 authors from Africa Europe and Latin America this book presents 19 topics addressing poverty in the context of Sustainable Development Goals SDGs leadership in implementing SDGs and SDGs in service delivery and local government As the world has gone past five years of implementing the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the intertwined 17 SDGs new opportunities in research continue to open up Hence documenting some of the initiatives put in place around the world regarding the implementation of the SDGs is one of the aims of this publication With 10 years remaining the book further enhances the desire to scale up SDGs implementation The selection of case studies from the selected regions also provides a balance in terms of how the SDGs are being rolled out for economic growth environmental stewardship and social protection The ambition remains even with the challenge brought by the COVID 19 pandemic that preoccupied the whole of 2020 spilling over to 2021 There is no doubt that resources have been diverted but the world must stay on the course to 2030 and beyond Therefore the book is relevant for several stakeholders including the academics development partners government officials and other individuals that are involved in making sure no one is left behind in the lead to 2030 Strategies for Facilitating Inclusive Campuses in Higher Education Jaimie

Hoffman,Patrick Blessinger,Mandla Makhanya,2019-07-25 This volume provides educators with a global understanding of the successes and challenges associated with facilitating inclusive campuses in higher education amidst the growing diversity of students by providing evidence based strategies and ideas for implementing equity and inclusion at higher education institutions around the world Mobility, Data and Learner Agency in Networked Learning Nina Bonderup Dohn,Petar

Jandrić,Thomas Ryberg,Maarten de Laat,2020-03-26 The chapters in this book are based on selected peer reviewed research papers presented at the 11th biennial Networked Learning Conference NLC 2018 held in Zagreb and were chosen as exemplars of cutting edge research on networked learning The chapters are organized into three main sections 1 Aspects of mobility for Networked Learning in a global world 2 Use and misuse of algorithms and learning analytics 3 Understanding and empowering learners The three main sections are flanked by chapters which introduce and reflect on Networked Learning as epistemic practice The concluding chapter draws out perspectives from the chapters and discusses emerging issues The book focuses on the nature of learning and interactions as an important characteristic sought out by researchers and practitioners in this field Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman,John Read,Theo du

Plessis,2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa
