The Job Offer Vicky Mordecai Book English Edition:

A Hundred Acres of America Michael Hoberman, 2019 In A Hundred Acres of America The Geography of Jewish American Literary History Michael Hoberman introduces cultural geography as an alternative approach to the immigrant model Cultural geography allows Hoberman to restore Jewish American writers to their roles as important active members of the American literary landscape from the 1850s to the present and to argue that Jewish history American literary history and the inhabitation of American geography are and always have been contiguous entities A Hundred Acres of America makes its case by investigating both canonical and extra canonical literary depictions of six geographies the frontier the small town the urban the suburban America as seen from Europe and Israel as seen from America Hoberman reads dozens of representative texts closely and analyzes a wide range of authors from frontier era memoirists and turn of the century native born reformers to contemporary novelists He adroitly demonstrates that Jewish American authors are not only present throughout American literary history but actively shaped this history with writings that often subverted or contradicted the ways their non Jewish peers depicted these geographies

Reproductive Labor and Innovation Jennifer Denbow, 2024-09-27 In Reproductive Labor and Innovation Jennifer Denbow examines how the push toward technoscientific innovation in contemporary American life often comes at the expense of the care work and reproductive labor that is necessary for society to function Noting that the gutting of social welfare programs has shifted the burden of solving problems to individuals Denbow argues that the aggrandizement of innovation and the degradation of reproductive labor are intertwined facets of neoliberalism She shows that the construction of innovation as a panacea to social ills justifies the accumulation of wealth for corporate innovators and the impoverishment of those feminized and racialized people who do the bulk of reproductive labor Moreover even innovative technology aimed at reproduction such as digital care work platforms and noninvasive prenatal testing obscure structural injustices and further devalue reproductive labor By drawing connections between innovation discourse the rise of neoliberalism financialized capitalism and the social and political degradation of reproductive labor Denbow illustrates what needs to be done to destabilize the overvaluation of innovation and to offer collective support for reproduction an adventure loving wild child who dives headlong into the counterculture and is up for anything except settling down Meanwhile Jo becomes a proper young mother in Connecticut a witness to the changing world instead of a participant Neither woman inhabits the world she dreams of nor has a life that feels authentic or brings her joy Is it too late for the women to finally stake a claim on happily ever after In her most sprawling and intensely personal novel to date Entertainment Weekly Jennifer Weiner tells a simply unputdownable Good Housekeeping story of two sisters who with their different dreams and different paths offer answers to the question How should a woman be in the world Workmen's Compensation Acts Donald J.
