Invisible Suburbs Josh Lukin, 2008 Were the 1950s an oppressive or a liberating time Some scholars argue that the Red Scare newly institutionalized discrimination against gays and a public discourse saturated with sexism left wounds in American society Others trace the origins of sixties liberation movements to the fifties and celebrate America's postwar prosperity or argue that such new phenomena as rock n roll teenage consumerism and Beat poetry gave Americans a new sense of freedom and identity Invisible Suburbs advances a new synthesis of both views from the perspective of literary scholarship Essayists ask how overlooked literature in the 1950s addressed or anticipated the struggles of disenfranchised groups to receive rights and recognition Scholars analyze the many ways in which the decade's culture stigmatized women minorities and the poor They uncover work that illustrates how groups and individuals challenged or resisted that oppression fiction by authors who sometimes found roots in earlier liberation movements and anticipated later struggles
