

A photograph of the main entrance gate to the University of Fort Hare. The gate is a wide, paved road leading through a concrete structure. The structure has a large, flat roof supported by several pillars. The pillars are decorated with square windows. The road is flanked by green trees and a clear blue sky. A yellow and black striped barrier is visible on the right side of the road.

Students' participation in university governance in South Africa Vuyo Mthethwa, 2023-03-01 The purpose of this book is to examine the academic experiences of students who participated in university governance at South African universities Scrutiny is placed on the alignment of student representative council constitutions and university statutes with the actual experiences students had in discharging their roles in governance and in the way this impacted their academic progress Through a multi site case study design semi structured interviews were conducted with members of the student representative council who participated in university governance and supported by document analysis and observations to generate the data The study adopted Tinto's Integration Theory and Astin's Theory of Involvement as the two frameworks are based on the relationship between students' extra-curricular activity and their academic experiences. The study invokes a greater awareness of students as major stakeholders in governance and informs policies and practices that may better serve students' academic experiences. The study will contribute to the understanding of cooperative governance principles while drawing from the perspective of the students on their understanding, limitations and challenges in discharging their roles in university governance.

Soshanguve paremiology+ Napjadi Letsoalo, Mpho Ngoepe, 2025-08-15. This scholarly book explores the transformative role of proverbs in cultural education, preservation and scholarly discourse in South Africa. It emphasises the importance of integrating indigenous African knowledge into academic spaces to support decolonisation, re-Africanisation and transformation. Proverbs are presented as tools for promoting multilingualism, multiculturalism, social cohesion and mutual respect in South Africa's diverse society. The book addresses the United Nations' UN Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 4: quality education, SDG 5: gender equity, SDG 9: innovation and SDG 10: reduce inequality. It serves as a teaching resource for proverbs in Northern Sotho, Sepedi, Sesotho, Setswana, Xitsonga, isiZulu, isiXhosa, isiNdebele, siSwati and/or Tshivenda. Sotho, Shangaan, Nguni and Venda i.e. Soshanguve as well as Chichewa and Shona supporting cross-cultural understanding. Grounded in a scholarly project on a multilingual proverbs dictionary, the book applies theoretical frameworks such as conceptual metaphor theory, ethnopragmatics and translation quality assessment to analyse proverbs. This interdisciplinary approach bridges linguistics, anthropology and digital humanities, offering fresh insights into the semantics and cultural significance of proverbs. The chapters in the book explore themes like proverbs in music, their intersection with patriarchy and translation quality assessment. Targeted at scholars and experts in languages, literature, linguistics and digital humanities, the book advances the study of proverbs while fostering cultural awareness and sensitivity. It highlights the value of proverbs as linguistic and cultural assets, enriching academic and practical applications across disciplines. Transitioning Vocational Education and Training in Africa Simon McGrath, George Openjuru Ladaah, Heila Lotz-Sisitka, Stephanie Allais, Jacques Zeelen, Volker Wedekind, Presha Ramsarup, David Monk, Luke Metelerkamp, Jo-Anna Russon, Bonaventure Kyaligonja, Glen Robbins, Scovia Adrupio, David Ocan, Kenneth Nyeko, Adoye Primo, Palesa Molebatsi, Themba Tshabalala, Sidney Muhangi, Maxwell Openjuru, 2023-01-06. EPDF and EPUB available. Open Access under CC BY-NC-ND licence. The transition to more just and sustainable development requires radical change across a wide range of areas and particularly within the nexus between learning and work. This book takes an expansive view of vocational education and training that goes beyond the narrow focus of much of the current literature and policy debate. Drawing on case studies across rural and urban settings in Uganda and South Africa, the book offers a new way of seeing this issue through an exploration of the multiple ways in which people learn to have better livelihoods. Crucially, it explores learning that takes place informally, online, within farmers' groups and in public and private educational institutions. Offering new insights and ways of thinking about this field, the book draws out clear implications for theory policy and practice in Africa and beyond Governance and Societal Adaptation in Fragile States John Idriss Lahai, Helen Ware, 2020-06-09 This book examines the various ways in which some fragile states in the Global South or states with limited statehood have adopted and adapted to processes of governance in their quests to address the socialized problems affecting their societies It tells the story of these states resilience in the societal adaptation to a liberalized notion of governance In addition to comparative case studies the book also analyzes the engendered interplay of culture economics and politics in the creation of people centric governance reforms The contributing authors shed light on weak states often constructive engagement in the promotion of state governance under a variety of societal conditions adverse or otherwise and on their ability to remain resilient despite the complexities of the political and economic challenges they face Rainbow Nation My Zulu Arse Sihle Khumalo, 2018-10-12 After exploring more than twenty other African nations using only public transport Sihle Khumalo this time roams within the borders of his own country The familiarity of his own car is a luxury but what he finds on his journey through South Africa ranges from the puzzling to the downright bizarre Voyaging from the northernmost part of South Africa right to the south the author noses his car down freeways and back roads into small towns townships and villages some of which you ll have trouble finding on a map But this is no cliché d description of beautiful landscapes and blue skies Khumalo is out to investigate the state of the nation from its highest successes to its most depressing failures Whether or not he s baffled surprised or sometimes plain angry Sihle Khumalo will always find warmth in his fellow South Africans security guards religious visionaries drunks political activists and the many other colourful personalities that come alive in his riveting account Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene Henrik Ernstson, Erik Swyngedouw, 2018-12-07 Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene Interruptions and Possibilities centres on how to organize anew the articulation between emancipatory theory and political activism Across its theoretical and empirical chapters written by leading scholars from anthropology geography urban studies and political science the book explores new political possibilities that are opening up in an age marked by proliferating contestations sharpening socio ecological inequalities and planetary processes of urbanization and environmental change A deepened conversation between urban environmental studies and political theory is mobilized to chart a radically new direction for the field of urban political ecology and cognate disciplines What could emancipatory politics be about in our time What does a return of the political under the aegis of equality and freedom signal today in theory and in practice How do political movements emerge that could re invent equality and freedom as actually existing socio ecological practices The hope is to contribute discussions that can expand and rearrange critical environmental studies to remain relevant in a time of deepening depoliticization and the rise of post truth politics Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene will be of interest to postgraduates established scholars and upper level undergraduates from any discipline or field with an interest in the interface between the urban the environment and the political including geography urban studies environmental studies
