Technofeminist Storiographies Kristine L. Blair, 2018-12-20 Technofeminist Storiographies Women Information Technology and Cultural Representation analyzes both historical and contemporary accounts of women's lived experiences of technology from Ada Lovelace and Hedy Lamarr to women working across the tech industry today and juxtaposes them with larger cultural representations of women and technology The book explores both the relationship between gender and technology and the cultural contexts that enable and constrain that relationship questions that call for opportunities for women to share their lived experiences and to have such experiences represented across media genres Despite the rich complex stories and histories women have with technology as programmers inventors and workers media throughout history including film television games toys children's books and biographies often inadequately and inaccurately represent them Throughout the book Kristine Blair chronicles the portrayal of the relationship between women and information technology across these media genres Inevitably the societal conditions that surround technology use including portrayal through popular media impact the extent to which women and girls gain and maintain access within those cultural contexts This book calls for a more visible history of women's technological achievements in which their stories are heard for generations to come rather than be forgotten and unknown The Cambridge Handbook of Consumer Privacy Evan Selinger, Jules

Polonetsky, Omer Tene, 2018-04-02 Businesses are rushing to collect personal data to fuel surging demand Data enthusiasts claim personal information that's obtained from the commercial internet including mobile platforms social networks cloud computing and connected devices will unlock path breaking innovation including advanced data security By contrast regulators and activists contend that corporate data practices too often disempower consumers by creating privacy harms and related problems As the Internet of Things matures and facial recognition predictive analytics big data and wearable tracking grow in power scale and scope a controversial ecosystem will exacerbate the acrimony over commercial data capture and analysis The only productive way forward is to get a grip on the key problems right now and change the conversation That's exactly what Jules Polonetsky Omer Tene and Evan Selinger do They bring together diverse views from leading academics business leaders and policymakers to discuss the opportunities and challenges of the new data economy
