Untold Histories Emily Anne Arrendale, 2014-11-28 With help from the Natives that kidnapped her Olive learns to appreciate the things that nature offers as well as establishing herself as a key person in their community Read along as she grows as a human being and helps discover what it truly meant to be the Tonto Woman As a woman in the late 19th and early 20th century stabilizing yourself is nearly impossible Follow Sally as she becomes a strong female in a world of men with a little help from Mr Moore a highly acclaimed archeologist at that time These short stories were originally researched and written for historical fiction and creative writing purposes A Feminist Companion to the Posthumanities Cecilia

Åsberg, Rosi Braidotti, 2018-05-17 This companion is a cutting edge primer to critical forms of the posthumanities and the feminist posthumanities aimed at students and researchers who want to catch up with the recent theoretical developments in various fields in the humanities such as new media studies gender studies cultural studies science and technology studies human animal studies postcolonial critique philosophy and environmental humanities It contains a collection of nineteen new and original short chapters introducing influential concepts ideas and approaches that have shaped and developed new materialism inhuman theory critical posthumanism feminist materialism and posthuman philosophy A resource for students and teachers this comprehensive volume brings together established international scholars and emerging theorists for timely and astute definitions of a moving target posthuman humanities and feminist posthumanities Women, Gender, and

History Education Marie-Hélène Brunet, Kristina R. Llewellyn, Rose Fine-Meyer, 2024-11-07 This is the first edited collection to focus on women gender and history education in Canada The aim of this edited collection is threefold to offer a historical analysis of women and gender in K 12 teaching and learning of history to provide an examination of women and gender in relation to contemporary pedagogy curriculum and resources in K 12 history education and teacher education and to explore the future of history education when informed by intersectional feminism and gender theory Readers are introduced to the ways in which women's historical narratives have been repeatedly marginalized despite the efforts of feminist activists and educators This collection is the beginning of a long overdue conversation about women and gender in how we teach and learn about the past The Tacky South Katharine A. Burnett, Monica Carol Miller, 2022-06-15 As a way to comment on a person's style or taste the word tacky has distinctly southern origins with its roots tracing back to the so called tackies who tacked horses on South Carolina farms prior to the Civil War The Tacky South presents eighteen fun insightful essays that examine connections between tackiness and the American South ranging from nineteenth century local color fiction and the television series Murder She Wrote to red velvet cake and the ubiquitous influence of Dolly Parton Charting the gender race and class constructions at work in regional aesthetics The Tacky South explores what shifting notions of tackiness reveal about US culture as a whole and the role that region plays in addressing national and global issues of culture and identity
