Gardner,Paul C. Stern,1996 This book examines the behavioural dimensions of global and regional environmental problems such as the greenhouse effect ozone depletion deforestation air pollution and water pollution The book asks What does our knowledge of human behaviour tell us about the root causes of environmental problems and about strategies for solving them Gardner and Stern seek to answer these questions by presenting a new synthesis of relevant research findings and theories from psychology the other behavioural and social sciences and other disciplines Environmental Ethics ,2006 Law and Business Lawrence S. Clark,Robert J. Aalberts,Peter D. Kinder,1994 This comprehensive business law text which features briefed cases combines traditional business law coverage with solid treatment of regulatory topics It meets both AACSB legal environment and CPA exam preparation requirements Rather than stress the mechanics of law Clark Aalberts Kinder conveys the complexity of the blend of factors that occurs when law is made and applied in resolving disputes An easy to read style spares the students the impenetrable prose of other business law texts Liberal use of flowcharts diagrams charts briefed cases and samples of legal instruments helps students learn Cases are followed by insightful commentaries of sometimes controversial topics and present and analyze the actual political economic social and ethical forces that caused the conflict A new co author Robert J Aalberts has been added for the fourth edition The revision has more chapter problems and 67 new cases The chapter on bailments which had been removed in the previous edition has been returned to Part V on property A unique new A Note to CPA Candidates at the end of every chapter provides invaluable insights and perspective on what the exam s emphasis and trends have been Resurgence ,2003

A Green and Permanent Land Randal S. Beeman,James A. Pritchard,2001 Once patronized primarily by the counterculture and the health food establishment the organic food industry today is a multi billion dollar business driven by ever growing consumer demand for safe food and greater public awareness of ecological issues Assumed by many to be a recent phenomenon that industry owes much to agricultural innovations that go back to the Dust Bowl era This book explores the roots and branches of alternative agricultural ideas in twentieth century America showing how ecological thought has challenged and changed agricultural theory practice and policy from the 1930s to the present It introduces us to the people and institutions who forged alternatives to industrialized agriculture through a deep concern for the enduring fertility of the soil a passionate commitment to human health and a strong advocacy of economic justice for farmers Randal Beeman and

James Pritchard show that agricultural issues were central to the rise of the environmental movement in the United States As family farms failed during the Depression a new kind of agriculture was championed based on the holistic approach taught by the emerging science of ecology Ecology influenced the permanent agriculture movement that advocated such radical concepts as long term land use planning comprehensive soil conservation and organic farming Then in the 1970s sustainable agriculture combined many of these ideas with new concerns about misguided technology and an over consumptive culture to preach a more sensible approach to farming In chronicling the overlooked history of alternative agriculture A Green and Permanent Land records the significant contributions of individuals like Rex Tugwell Hugh Bennett Louis Bromfield Edward Faulkner Russell and Kate Lord Scott and Helen Nearing Robert Rodale Wes Jackson and groups like Friends of the Land and the Practical Farmers of Iowa And by demonstrating how agriculture also remains central to the public interest especially in the face of climatic crises genetically altered crops and questionable uses of pesticides this book puts these issues in historical perspective and offers readers considerable food for thought
