What Do We Owe Other Animals? Bob Fischer,Anja Jauernig,2023-12-22 Philosophers Bob Fischer and Anja Jauernig agree that human society often treats animals in indefensible ways and that all animals morally matter they disagree on whether humans and animals morally matter equally In What Do We Owe Other Animals A Debate Fischer and Jauernig square off over this central question in animal ethics Jauernig defends the view that all living beings morally matter equally and are owed compassion on account of which we are also obligated to adopt a vegan diet Fischer denies that we have an obligation to become vegans and argues for the position that humans morally matter more than all other living creatures The two authors each offer a clear well developed opening statement a direct response to the other s statement and then a response to the other s response Along the way they explore central questions like What kind of beings matter morally What kind of obligations do we have towards other animals How demanding can we reasonably expect these obligations to be Do our individual consumer choices such as the choice to purchase factory farmed animal products make a difference to the wellbeing of animals The debate is helpfully framed by introductions and conclusions to each of the major parts and by smaller introductions to each of the sub sections A Foreword by Dustin Crummett sets the context for the debate within a larger discussion of sentience moral standing reason guided compassion and the larger field of animal ethics Key Features Showcases the presentation and defense of two points of view on the moral worth of non human animals Provides frequent summaries of previously covered material Includes a topically organized list of Further Readings and a Glossary of all specialized vocabulary
