Hilarious. Michiko Kakutani, The New York Times. Chris Ayres is a small town boy, a hypochondriac and a neat freak with an anxiety disorder. Not exactly the picture of a war correspondent. But when his boss asks him if he would like to go to Iraq, he doesn't have the guts to say no. After signing a one million dollar life insurance policy, studying a tutorial on repairing severed limbs and spending twenty thousand dollars on camping gear, only to find out that his bright yellow tent makes him a sitting duck, Ayres is embedded with a battalion of gung ho Marines who either shun him or threaten him when he files an unfavorable story. As time goes on, though, he begins to understand them and his inexplicably enthusiastic fellow war reporters more and more. Each night of terrifying combat brings in the morning something more visceral than he has ever experienced, the thrill of having won a fight for survival. War Reporting for Cowards tells with self-deprecating wit the story of Iraq in a way that is extraordinarily honest and bitterly hilarious. The New Yorker. Heartbreakingly funny. Anthony Swofford, author of Jarhead. Chris Ayres has invented a new genre, a rip-roaring tale of adventure and derring-do. Not Toby Young, author of How to Lose Friends and Alienate People. Darkly entertaining. Los Angeles Times. Ayres's stories of life with Marines are gripping in part because he's the perfect neurotic foil. People. Nature Remade Luis A. Campos, Michael R. Dietrich, Tiago Saraiva, Christian C. Young, 2021-07-16. In this fourth volume in our Convening Science series with the Marine Biological Laboratory, contributors including historians, biologists and philosophers explore the development of bioengineering. The essays show how engineering is both a means to a functional end and a method of learning about the world. The book is organized around three themes: controlling and reproducing, knowing and making, and envisioning to chart the increasing sophistication of our engineering of biological systems and to change our sense of the scales at which engineering occurs, to include not just genetics but also ecosystem level intervention. The volume will attempt to make the case for the centrality of engineering for understanding and imagining modern life. The NASA Conspiracies Nick Redfern, 2010-12-20. A journalist specializing in conspiracy theories examines the US government's role in censoring information about the space program and alien lifeforms. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) was established on July 29, 1958. Ever since that day, NASA has been at the forefront of efforts to explore outer space, resulting in the Apollo missions to the moon, the Skylab space station and today's space shuttle. But behind the open face of NASA, there is a much more mysterious world. NASA has been linked to a wealth of high-level cover-ups, including claims that the Apollo moon landings of 1969 to 1972 were faked as part of an effort to demonstrate military and technological superiority over the former Soviet Union. NASA's role in hiding the truth about the controversial face on Mars which many believe to be a carved structure created in the remote past by long extinct indigenous Martians NASA's deep and longstanding involvement in the famous UFO crash at Roswell New Mexico in the summer of 1947 Deep Throat like NASA sources that have attempted to blow the lid on NASA's most guarded secrets concerning the U S Government's interactions with aliens The NASA Conspiracies throws open all the doors that the Space Agency has kept closed for so long *Federal Communications Commission Reports.
