Tough Tough Toys For Tough Tough Boys:

Tough, Tough Toys for Tough, Tough Boys Will Self, 2012-10-16 Tough Tough Toys for Tough Tough Boys is a new collection of cork screwed tales from the author of Great Apes The Guardian London describes Will Self as a wayward genius and you can find out why when you observe the author's pitiless dissection of the foibles of men women and the Volvo 760 Turbo Self's world is a no funhouse of warped mirrors A man is seduced into a misanthropically charged symbiosis with the insects infesting his cottage he has entered Flytopia In A Story for Europe a two year old English child utters his first halting words in business German In Caring Sharing status conscious New Yorkers navigate the perils of dating along with their very literal inner children In The Rock of Crack as Big as the Ritz a black Londoner discovers an enormous rock of crack cocaine underpinning his house and quickly turns it into an efficient little empire In the title story a psychoanalyst strips away all the sangfroid of his professionalism to find beneath precisely nothing And in the short novella The Nonce Prize a man framed for a sex crime he didn't commit finds that his only way out is to win a short story competition Sharp funny and packed with verbal fireworks Tough Tough Toys for Tough Tough Boys confirms yet again Will Self's stature as one of the most accomplished and original writers of his generation

Understanding Will Self M. Hunter Hayes, 2007 Understanding Will Self introduces readers to the satire and expressive ingenuity of a British writer who has garnered an array of awards since the 1991 publication of his first short story collection The Quantity Theory of Sanity In this guide to the well received but largely unstudied writer M Hunter Hayes examines the key themes narrative strategies and cultural commentaries that characterize Self's work Through close textual analyses Hayes guides readers through the alternative universe of Self's writing and maps the interplay between his forays into journalism and fiction Marked by their combination of seemingly improbable events and quotidian details Self's novels novellas and short stories examine contemporary English life through a mode of writing that he has aptly termed dirty magical realism Hayes shows how recurring characters have evolved through successive works and in relation with their environments

Liver Will Self, 2019-08-20 In this collection of four linked stories newly reissued by Grove Will Self takes aim at the disease and decay that target the largest of human organs the liver Set in locales as toxic as a London drinking club and mundane as a clinic in an orderly Swiss city the stories distill the hard lives of their subjects whether alcoholic drug addict or cancer patient In Foie Humaine set at the Plantation Club it's always a Tuesday afternoon in midwinter and the shivering denizens of this dusty realm spend their days observing its proprietor as he force feeds the barman vodka spiked beer Joyce Beddoes protagonist of Leberkn del has terminal liver cancer and is on her way to be euthanized in Zurich when miraculously her disease goes into remission In Prometheus a young copywriter at London's most cutting edge ad agency has his liver nibbled by a griffon thrice daily but he's always in the pink the following morning and ready to make that killer pitch If blood and bile flow through liverish London the two arteries meet in Birdy Num Num where career junky Billy Chobham performs little services for the customers who gather to wait for the Man while in his blood a virus pullulates A moving portrayal of egos appetites and addictions Liver is an extraordinary achievement from one of the most talented minds working today

Character and Satire in Post War Fiction Ian Gregson, 2008-04-01 This monograph analyses the use of caricature as one of the key strategies in narrative fiction since the war Close analysis of some of the best known postwar novelists including Toni Morrison Philip Roth Joyce Carol Oates Angela Carter and Will Self reveals how they use caricature to express postmodern conceptions of the self In the process of moving away from the modernist focus on subjectivity postmodern characterisation has often drawn on a much older satirical tradition which includes Hogarth and Gillray in the visual arts and Dryden Pope Swift and Dickens in literature Its key images depict the human as reduced to the status of an object an animal or a machine or the human body as dismembered to represent the fragmentation of the human spirit Gregson argues that this return to caricature is symptomatic of a satirical attitude to the self which is particularly characteristic of contemporary culture

Grey Area Will Self, 2012-10-16 Will Self whom the Los Angeles Times calls the hottest young novelist in England demonstrates his razor sharp wit in these nine new stories Self's method depends upon taking an ordinary aspect of the world and then pushing it to its limit in furious absurdity The short stories in Grey Area reflect the technical brilliance and satiric voice that have made him one of the most highly praised comic writers in a decade These are stories that delve into the modern psyche with unsettling and darkly satiric results Inclusion tells the story of a doctor who is illegally testing a new antidepressant made from bee excrement A Short History of the English Novel brings us face to face with a pompous publisher who is greeted at every turn by countless rejected authors In The End of the Relationship a woman who has been left by her boyfriend provokes like some emotional Typhoid Mary that same reaction among all the couples she goes to for comfort The narrator of Between the Conceits declares without hesitation that London is controlled by only eight individuals and thankfully he is one of them Self's world in these pieces is both curiously familiar and hauntingly strange Published to critical acclaim in England Grey Area is a dazzling collection by one of the most talented and original writers of his generation

Voices and Silence in the Contemporary Novel in English Vanessa Guignery, 2009-10-02 This volume examines the various processes at work in expressing silence and excessive speech in contemporary novels in English covering the whole spectrum from effusiveness to muteness Even if in the postmodern episteme language is deemed inadequate for speaking the unspeakable contemporary authors still rely on voice as a mode of representation and a performative tool and exploit silence not only as a sign of absence block or withdrawal but also as a token of presence and resistance Logorrhoea and reticence are not necessarily antithetical as compulsive verbosity may work as a smokescreen to sidestep the real issues while silences and gaps may reveal more than they hide By submitting their texts to both expansion and retention hypertrophy and aphasia writers persistently test the limits of language and its ability to make sense of individual and collective stories The present volume analyses the complex poetics of silence and speech in fiction from the 1960s to the present with special focus on Will Self Graham Swift John Fowles Kazuo Ishiguro Jenny Diski Lionel Shriver Michelle Roberts Margaret Atwood Jonathan Safran Foer Salman Rushdie Arundhati Roy Zadie Smith Jamaica Kincaid Ryhaan Shah and J M Coetzee

Transport, Climate Change and the City Robin Hickman,David Banister,2014-02-05 Sustainable mobility has long been sought after in cities around the world particularly in industrialised countries but also increasingly in the emerging cities in Asia Progress however appears difficult to make as the private car still largely fuelled by petrol or diesel remains the mainstream mode of use Transport is the key sector where carbon dioxide CO2 emissions seem difficult to reduce Transport Climate Change and the City seeks to develop achievable and low transport CO2 emission futures in a range of international case studies including in London Oxfordshire Delhi Jinan and Auckland The aim is that the scenarios as developed and the consideration of implementation and governance issues can help us plan for and achieve attractive future travel behaviours at the city level The alternative is to continue with only incremental progress against CO2 reduction targets to sleepwalk into climate change difficulties oil scarcity a poor quality of life and to continue with the high traffic casualty figures The topic is thus critical with transport viewed as central to the achievement of the sustainable city and reduced CO2 emissions
