Tracing the Trails in the Medieval World Albrecht Classen,2020-10-11 Every human being knows that we are walking through life following trails whether we are aware of them or not Medieval poets from the anonymous composer of Beowulf to Marie de France Hartmann von Aue Gottfried von Strassburg and Guillaume de Lorris to Petrarch and Heinrich Kaufringer predicated their works on the notion of the trail and elaborated on its epistemological function We can grasp here an essential concept that determines much of medieval and early modern European literature and philosophy addressing the direction which all protagonists pursue as powerfully illustrated also by the anonymous poets of Herzog Ernst and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight Dante s Divina Commedia in fact proves to be one of the most explicit poetic manifestations of the fundamental idea of the trail but we find strong parallels also in powerful contemporary works such as Guillaume de Deguileville s Plerinage de la vie humaine and in many mystical tracts

Traveling in Place Bernd Stiegler,2024-05-31 Armchair travel may seem like an oxymoron Doesn t travel require us to leave the house And yet anyone who has lost herself for hours in the descriptive pages of a novel or the absorbing images of a film knows the very real feeling of having explored and experienced a different place or time without ever leaving her seat No passport no currency no security screening required the luxury of armchair travel is accessible to us all In Traveling in Place Bernd Stiegler celebrates this convenient magical means of transport in all its many forms Organized into twenty one legs or short chapters Traveling in Place begins with a consideration of Xavier de Maistre s 1794 Voyage autour de ma chambre an account of the forty two day journey around his room Maistre undertook as a way to entertain himself while under house arrest Stiegler is fascinated by the notion of exploring the familiar as though it were completely new and strange He engages writers as diverse as Roussel Beckett Perec Robbe Grillet Cort zar Kierkegaard and Borges all of whom show how the everyday can be brilliantly transformed Like the best guidebooks Traveling in Place is more interested in the idea of travel as a state of mind than as a physical activity and Stiegler reflects on the different ways that traveling at home have manifested themselves in the modern era from literature and film to the virtual possibilities of the Internet blogs and contemporary art Reminiscent of the pictorial meditations of Sebald but possessed of the intellectual playfulness of Calvino Traveling in Place offers an entertaining and creative Baedeker to journeying at home
