introduced by Andrzej Zgorzelski Technologies of Feminist Speculative Fiction Sherryl Vint, Sümeyra Buran, 2022-05-04

Technologies of Feminist Speculative Fiction Gender Artificial Life and the Politics of Reproduction explores how much technology has reshaped feminist conversations in the decades since Donna Haraway's influential Cyborg Manifesto was published. With sections exploring reproductive technologies, new ways of imagining femininity and motherhood via artificial means, queer readings of gender as a social technology and posthuman visions of a world beyond gender, this book demonstrates how feminist speculative fiction offers an urgently needed response to the intersections of women's bodies and technology. This collection brings together authors from Europe, Japan, the US and the UK to consider speculative films and texts, reproductive technologies and food futures, and opportunities to rethink family, aging, gender and sexuality and community through feminist speculative fiction, a social technology for building better futures.

Unnatural Narrative Jan Alber, 2016-03

A talking body part, a character that is simultaneously alive and dead, a shape-changing setting or time travel, although impossible in the real world, such narrative elements do appear in the storyworlds of novels, short stories and plays. Impossibilities of narrator, character, time and space are not only common in today's world of postmodernist literature but can also be found throughout the history of literature. Examples include the beast fable, the heroic epic, the romance, the eighteenth-century circulation novel, the Gothic novel, the ghost play, the fantasy narrative and the science fiction novel, among others. Unnatural Narrative looks at the startling and persistent presence of the impossible or the unnatural throughout British and American literary history. Layering the lenses of cognitive narratology, frame theory and possible worlds theory, Unnatural Narrative offers a rigorous and engaging new characterization of the unnatural and what it yields for individual readers as well as literary culture. Jan Alber demonstrates compelling interpretations of the unnatural in literature and shows the ways in which such unnatural phenomena become conventional in readers' minds, altogether expanding our sense of the imaginable and informing new structures and genres of narrative engagement.

Red Side Story Jasper Fforde, 2024-05-07

The long-awaited follow-up to the New York Times bestselling Shades of Grey in an EXCLUSIVE EDITION for North American readers, complete with a never-before-published short story. Fforde's books are more than an ingenious idea. They are written with buoyant zest and are tautly plotted and are embellished with the rich details of a Dickens or Pratchett. The Independent Welcome to Chromatacia, where life is strictly regulated by one's limited color perception. Civilization has been rebuilt after an unspoken Something that Happened five hundred years before. Society is now color vision segregated, everything dictated by an individual's visual ability and governed by the shadowy National Color in far-off Emerald City. Twenty-year-old Eddie Russett, a Red, is about to go on trial for a murder he didn't commit, and he's pretty certain to be sent on a one-way trip to the Green Room for execution by soporific color exposure. Meanwhile, he's engaged in an illegal relationship with his co-defendant, a Green, the charismatic and unpredictable Jane Grey. Negotiating the narrow boundaries of the Rules within their society, they search for a loophole, some truth of their world that has been hidden from its hyper policed citizens New York Times bestselling author Jasper Fforde returns to his fan favorite Shades of Grey series with this wildly anticipated laugh out loud funny and darkly satirical adventure about two star crossed lovers on a quest to survive even if it means upending their entire society in the process
