TRUE nervous very very dreadfully nervous I had been and am but why will you say that I am mad The disease had sharpened my senses not destroyed not dulled them Above all was the sense of hearing acute I heard all things in the heaven and in the earth I heard many things in hell How then am I mad Hearken and observe how healthily how calmly I can tell you the whole story It is impossible to say how first the idea entered my brain but once conceived it haunted me day and night Object there was none Passion there was none I loved the old man He had never wronged me He had never given me insult For his gold I had no desire I think it was his eye yes it was this He had the eye of a vulture a pale blue eye with a film over it Whenever it fell upon me my blood ran cold and so by degrees very gradually I made up my mind to take the life of the old man and thus rid myself of the eye forever Now this is the point You fancy me mad Madmen know nothing But you should have seen me You should have seen how wisely I proceeded with what caution with what foresight with what dissimulation I went to work I was never kinder to the old man than during the whole week before I killed him And every night about midnight I turned the latch of his door and opened it oh so gently And then when I had made an opening sufficient for my head I put in a dark lantern all closed closed so that no light shone out and then I thrust in my head Oh you would have laughed to see how cunningly I thrust it in I moved it slowly very very slowly so that I might not disturb the old man's sleep
