Report to Congress of the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission,2014 The Bukharan Crisis Scott Levi,2020-05-26 In the first half of the eighteenth century Central Asia's Bukharan Khanate descended into a crisis from which it would not recover Bukharans suffered failed harvests and famine a severe fiscal downturn invasions from the north and the south rebellion and then revolution To date efforts to identify the cause of this crisis have focused on the assumption that the region became isolated from early modern globalizing trends The Bukharan Crisis exposes that explanation as a flawed relic of early Orientalist scholarship on the region In its place Scott Levi identifies multiple causal factors that underpinned the Bukharan crisis Some of these were interrelated and some independent some unfolded over long periods while others shocked the region more abruptly but they all converged in the early eighteenth century to the detriment of the Bukharan Khanate and those dependent upon it Levi applies an integrative framework of analysis that repositions Central Asia in recent scholarship on multiple themes in early modern Eurasian and world history The End of the Chinese Century? Bertil Lintner,2024-10-16 The Belt and Road Initiative when first unveiled by Xi Jinping in 2013 was envisioned as even bigger and grander than America's Marshall Plan Famously referred to as the New Silk Route it proposed an overland Silk Road Economic Belt connecting China with Europe through Central Asia and the Maritime Silk Road that the Chinese claim existed in ancient times across the Indian Ocean The BRI would not only restore China's glory as a global trading nation but also establish its status as the world leader overtaking the United States A decade later not everyone in Asia and the Pacific shares Xi's visions of a China dominated future Countries like Sri Lanka and Laos have fallen into Chinese debt traps due to the loans they took as part of the BRI in others like Thailand and Central Asian republics Chinese investment is unwelcome and in some like Pakistan the opposition to China's forays has been outright violent In The End of the Chinese Century journalist Bertil Lintner takes us through the history of the BRI and China's global expansionist plans He casts an expert eye on the once much vaunted project's future and what its failure might mean for the Chinese Century and how that would affect India which continues to be a counterpoint to China on the world stage Ferozkoh: Tradition and Continuity in Afghan Art (English Edition) Leslee Michelsen,2013-09-05 Ferozkoh: Tradition and Continuity in Afghan Art represents a partnership between the Museum of Islamic Art Doha and the students and teachers of the Institute for Afghan Arts and Architecture in Kabul The unifying theme of the exhibition is the preservation of the traditional arts of the Islamic world in both themes and materials in the modern world and the role of education in its transmission and translation Half of the objects featured in the exhibition are historical objects masterpieces from the Museum of Islamic Art's collection from four great dynasties with connections to Afghanistan the Ghaznavids Timurids Mughals and Safavids The other half of the exhibition presents works created specifically for the exhibition by Turquoise Mountain students in response to and in conversation with the historical objects Featuring exquisite
