Union Street Pat Barker:

Union Street Pat Barker, 2016-10-27 Vivid bawdy and bitter THE TIMES A first rate first novel pungent raunchy dialogue passages of fine understated wit IVAN GOLD NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW Pat Barker's first novel shows the women of Union Street young and old meeting the harsh challenges of poverty and survival in a precarious world There's Kelly at eleven neglected and independent dealing with a squalid rape Dinah knocking on sixty and still on the game Joanne not yet twenty not yet married and already pregnant Old Alice is welcoming her impending death whilst Muriel helplessly watches the decline of her stoical husband And linking them all watching over them all mother to half the street is fiery indomitable Iris

Union Street P. Barker, 1987 The England of the 70s and 80s. An Analysis of Pat Barker's Book "Union Street" and Shane Meadows' Movie "This Is England" Elena Agathokleous, 2021-05-11 Essay from the year 2018 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Comparative Literature grade A language English abstract This essay discusses Pat Barker's book Union Street and Shane Meadows' movie This Is England from a political point of view in the period after the end of World War 2 when England was declining in the process of deindustrialization which had a profound impact on people accustomed and trained to that way of life Despite the fact that even after two world wars England was still the strongest European military and economical force there were major changes that affected its status as a super power After the end of WW2 England was declining in the process of deindustrialization which had a profound impact on people accustomed and trained to that way of life In addition to unemployment and strikes the rise of inflation was a major factor to people feeling poorly compensated for their hard work Union Street B Special Pat Barker, 2001-12 Union Street Pat Barker, 1995

Feminism, Bakhtin, and the Dialogic Dale M. Bauer, Susan Jaret McKinstry, 1992-02-04 Feminism Bakhtin and the Dialogic assembles thirteen essays on the intersection of Bakhtin's narrative theory especially his concept of dialogism The book explores the dimensions of using Bakhtin for a feminist analysis and discerns the connections between feminist dialogics and cultural materialism The authors offer various views ranging from studies of ecofeminism gender theories of novelistic discourse Bakhtin and French feminism to analyses of contemporary novelists such as Toni Morrison Nadine Gordimer and Pat Barker Drawing on Bakhtin's sociolinguistics this book provides an introduction to feminist work on Bakhtin and the development of a cultural politics of reading Challenging questions are raised What is dialogic feminism Can Bakhtin's theories advance a feminist politics How does a feminist dialogics fit into a materialist feminist practice Can the dialogic imagination also describe some of the most radical moments within feminist thinking The interdisciplinary focus of these responses represents the ongoing dialogue among literary critics cultural theorists and feminists Fictions of Home Martin Mühlheim, 2018-04-23 This study aims to counter right wing discourses of belonging It discusses key theoretical concepts for the study of home focusing in particular on Marxist feminist postcolonial and psychoanalytic contributions The book also maintains that postmodern celebrations of nomadism and exile tend to be incapable of providing an alternative to conservative xenophobic appropriations of home In detailed readings of one film and six novels a view is developed according to which home as a spatio temporal imaginary is rooted in our species being and as such constitutes the inevitable starting point for any progressive politics

Contemporary Women's Writing Maroula Joannou,2000 This wide ranging study provides a historically grounded account of women s fiction in the 1960s and the 1970s relating changes in the social structure of Britain and the United States to the literary representations of women s experience New York Magazine,1990-02-19 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea

The History of British Women's Writing, 1970-Present Mary Eagleton,Emma Parker,2016-04-29 This book maps the most active and vibrant period in the history of British women s writing Examining changes and continuities in fiction poetry drama and journalism as well as women s engagement with a range of literary and popular genres the essays in this volume highlight the range and diversity of women s writing since 1970 Angela Carter's Futures Sarah Gamble,Anna Watz,2025-02-20 This book explores Angela Carter s creative and critical afterlives as well as the multiple ways in which her work is amenable to being read through current critical and cultural theories Examining topics as diverse as theatrical adaptations of Carter s novels her post human politics and the inspiration of her work for contemporary writers the essays in this collection demonstrate Carter s continuing relevance into the 21st century This volume will appeal both to scholars and students of contemporary women s writing British fiction critical theory reception studies and gender studies

Locating Classed Subjectivities Simon Lee,2022-05-30 Locating Classed Subjectivities explores representations of social class in British fiction through the lens of spatial theory and analysis By analyzing a range of class conscious texts from the nineteenth twentieth and twenty first centuries the collection provides an overview of the way British writers mobilized spatial aesthetics as a means to comment on the intricacies of social class In doing so the collection delineates aesthetic strategies of representation in British writing tracing the development of literary forms while considering how authors mobilized innovative spatial metaphors to better express contingent social and economic realities Ranging in coverage from early nineteenth century narratives of disease to contemporary writing on the working class millennial Locating Classed Subjectivities offers new perspectives on literary techniques and political intentions exploring the way class is parsed and critiqued through British writing across three centuries As such the project responds to Nigel Thrift and Peter Williams s claim that literary and cultural production serves as a particularly rich yet unexamined access point by which to comprehend the way space and social class intersect

Home in British Working-Class Fiction Nicola Wilson,2016-03-09 Home in British Working Class Fiction offers a fresh take on British working class writing that turns away from a masculinist work based understanding of class in favour of home gender domestic labour and the family kitchen As Nicola Wilson shows the history of the British working classes has often been written from the outside with observers looking into the world of the inhabitants Here Wilson engages with the long cultural history of this gaze and asks how home is represented in the writing of authors who come from a working class background Her book explores the depiction of home as a key emotional and material site in working class writing from the Edwardian period through to the early 1990s Wilson presents new readings of classic texts including The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists Love on the Dole and Saturday Night and Sunday Morning analyzing them alongside works by authors including James Hanley Walter Brierley Lewis Grassie Gibbon Buchi Emecheta Pat Barker James Kelman and the rediscovered ex mill girl novelist Ethel Carnie Holdsworth Wilson s broad understanding of working class writing allows her to incorporate figures typically ignored in this context as she demonstrates the importance of home s role in the making and expression of class feeling and identity

Community in Twentieth-Century Fiction P. Salvan,G. Salas,J. Heffernan,2016-01-19 This book focuses on the imaginary construction and deconstruction of human communities in modern and contemporary fiction Drawing on recent theoretical debate on the notion of community Nancy Blanchot Badiou Esposito this collection examines narratives by Joyce Mansfield Davies Naipaul DeLillo Atwood and others

Women's Identities and Bodies in Colonial and Postcolonial History and Literature Maria Isabel Romero Ruiz,2012-01-17 Since the second half of the twentieth century there has been a commitment on the part of women writers and scholars to revise and rewrite the history and culture of colonial and post colonial women This collection intends to enter a forum of discussion in which the colonial past serves as a point of reference for the analysis of contemporary issues This volume will examine topics of women s identities and bodies through literary representations and historical accounts In other words the aim is to reconstruct women s identities through the representations of their bodies in literature and to analyse women s bodies historically as sites of abuse discrimination and violence on the one hand and of knowledge and cultural production on the other The chapters of this book will contribute to the formation of a new representation of women through history and literature which fights traditional stereotypes in relation to their bodies and identities Focusing on female bodies as maternal bodies as repositories of history and memory as sexual bodies as healing bodies as performative of gender as black bodies as migrant and hybrid bodies as the objects of regulation and control and as victims of sexual exploitation and murder the different articles contained in this book will examine issues of space power knowledge relations discrimination the production of knowledge gender and boundaries to produce new identities for women which contest and respond to the traditional ones The volume is addressed to a wide readership both scholars and those interested in investigating the dynamics of the female body and the social and cultural conceptualizations of our multicultural and multiethnic contemporary societies in relation to it without forgetting the historical and colonial roots of these new representations

Shame and the Aging Woman J. Brooks Bouson, 2016-08-19 This book brings together the research findings of contemporary feminist age studies scholars shame theorists and feminist gerontologists in order to unfurl the affective dynamics of gendered ageism In her analysis of what she calls embodied shame J Brooks Bouson describes older women s shame about the visible signs of aging and the health and appearance of their bodies as they undergo the normal processes of bodily aging Examining both fictional and nonfiction works by contemporary North American and British women authors this book offers a sustained analysis of the various ways that ageism devalues and damages the identities of otherwise psychologically healthy women in our graying culture Shame theory as Bouson shows astutely explains why gendered ageism is so deeply entrenched in our culture and why even aging feminists may succumb to this distressing but sometimes hidden cultural affliction

Rethinking Contemporary British Women's Writing Emilie Walezak, 2021-08-26 Providing close readings of well known British realist writers including Pat Barker A S Byatt Rose Tremain Sarah Hall Bernadine Evaristo and Zadie Smith this book uses new directions in material and posthuman feminism to examine how contemporary women writers explore the challenges we collectively face today Walezak redresses negative assumptions about realism s alleged conservatism and demonstrates the vitality and relevance of the realist genre in experimenting with the connections between individual and collective voices human and non human meditations local and global scales and author and reader Considering how contemporary realist writing is attuned to pressing issues including globalization climate change and interconnectivity this book provides innovative new ways of reading realism examines how these writers are looking to reinvent the genre and shows how realism helps reimagine our place in the world
