growth of the Christian population on the continent has caused many to question the social impact of African Christianity. Re-Visioning African Pentecostal Charismatic Ecclesiology in the Public Sphere is a response to these observations. The contributors to this volume, who are made up of seasoned academics, theological educators, and missiologists and mission practitioners, have engaged the subject from multidisciplinary perspectives, highlighting significant contributions of African Pentecostalism while pointing out critical areas for urgent attention. The volume is intended to stimulate conversations around the church's mandate of influencing the public sphere as an agent of social transformation.

Empowering Novice Academics for Student Success Dr. Johann Hugo, 2021-04-26. This book is essential for academics that enter the field of higher education and training as it focuses on preparing teachers and trainers to respond appropriately to student success challenges. Student success is a burning issue both globally and locally. While student achievement is determined by a combination of factors, teachers and their teaching practices do matter. Higher education teachers are expected to fulfil different roles at different times, such as planning for curriculum implementation, mentorship, and coaching, facilitating learning, resource development, and student assessment. Against this background, the primary purpose of Empowering Novice Academics for Student Success is building the capacity of novice teachers and trainers to play an influential role in increasing student success throughput.

Infertility in a Crowded Country Holly Donahue Singh, 2022-12-06. In Lucknow, the capital of India's most populous state, the stigmas and colonial legacies surrounding sexual propriety and population growth affect how Muslim women often in poverty cope with infertility. In Infertility in a Crowded Country, Holly Donahue Singh draws on interviews, observation, and autoethnographic perspectives in local communities and Lucknow's infertility clinics to examine access to technology and treatments and to explore how pop culture shapes the reproductive paths of women and their supporters through clinical spaces, health camps, religious sites, and adoption agencies. Donahue Singh finds that women are willing to transgress social and religious boundaries to seek healing. By focusing on interpersonal connections, Infertility in a Crowded Country provides a fascinating starting point for discussions of family, kinship, and gender, the global politics of reproduction, and reproductive technologies and ideologies and social practices around creating families.

Academic Integrity Meets Artificial Intelligence Ruth Baker-Gardner, 2025-11-13. Academic Integrity Meets Artificial Intelligence examines academic integrity practices in higher education institutions (HEIs) in the Caribbean, assessing the current and potential impact of generative artificial intelligence tools on academic integrity and how HEIs globally have been responding.

POSHAN's abstract digest on maternal and child nutrition research - Issue 34 Avula, Rasmi, ed., 2020-06-30. This issue of Abstract Digest comes to you at a time when the global nutrition research community is actively looking for ways to address malnutrition in the changing context of the COVID-19 pandemic. The articles in this issue include a modelling study by Robertson and colleagues on early estimates of the indirect effects of COVID-19 pandemic on maternal and child mortality in low-income and middle-income countries and comments on it.

This Week in South

Africa ,1995 Nigeria-South Africa Relations and Regional Hegemonic Competence Oluwaseun Tella,2018-11-27 This book examines the relations between Nigeria and South Africa and their implications for regional influence across the African continent With the largest and third largest economies in the region and a historical status as the major peacemakers on the continent it is often argued that Africa s fate is directly linked to the success or failure of these regional powers While there is widespread reference to each state s capabilities and regional influence in the extant literature little analysis is offered on relations between Nigeria and South Africa and their impact on regional governance and provision of public goods on the continent This book attempts to fill the gap by engaging issues such as the hegemonic competence of the states their credentials for a permanent seat at the UNSC their efforts towards regional integration and their efforts towards combating the dark side of globalization including climate change drug trafficking and xenophobia It also engages a gender perspective to these states relations as well as their experiences of transitional justice Providing an in depth comparative analysis of the two so called African powerhouses this volume will be of interest to policy makers academics and students interested in Nigeria and South Africa s foreign policy regional powerhood and the African peace security and development agenda

Next-Generation Fertilizers Mohamed Ait-El-Mokhtar,Marouane Baslam,Raffaella Maria Balestrini,2025-10-24 The field of agricultural science is currently grappling with the challenge of feeding a projected global population of 10 billion people by 2050 This task is compounded by the anticipated decline in productivity of two thirds of worldwide agricultural land due to climate change and the intensification of agriculture which has led to soil degradation and reduced fertility Current agricultural practices heavily rely on fertilizers to boost crop productivity but improper application can result in significant economic environmental and social issues including nutrient runoff and increased greenhouse gas emissions Recent studies have highlighted the need for sustainable intensification of agriculture emphasizing the importance of developing next generation fertilizers that are both efficient and environmentally friendly Despite advancements there remains a critical gap in understanding and implementing innovative fertilizer technologies that can sustainably enhance crop yields This research topic aims to explore and develop new and sustainable technologies for next generation fertilizers that can improve crop nutrition efficiency increase yields and promote sustainable agriculture while minimizing environmental impacts The primary objectives include investigating innovative approaches to fertilizer production understanding the molecular mechanisms of action and evaluating the potential of these new technologies to replace conventional fertilizers Key questions to be addressed include how these novel fertilizers can enhance nutrient use efficiency promote crop tolerance to various stresses and improve the nutritional quality of crops To gather further insights into the boundaries of next generation fertilizers we welcome articles addressing but not limited to the following themes Innovative approaches and advanced methods to produce and characterize next generation fertilizers e g rhizosphere microbiome engineering atmospheric nitrogen fixation enhanced efficiency fertilizers biodegradable coatings for controlled release Systems of bioactive based novel fertilizers including biostimulants nutrients signaling molecules and inorganic molecules Development of next generation fertilizers for enhanced nutrient use efficiency NUE in crops Promoting crop tolerance to biotic and abiotic stresses using new fertilizers Synergies between the bioactivities of different fertilizers Improving crop nutritional quality and functionality using next generation fertilizers Understanding the molecular mechanisms of novel fertilizers in imparting stress tolerance and NUE in crops

Fort Saint George Gazette Madras (India : State),1963-04 Who's who of Southern Africa ,1986 Vols for 1967 70 include as a section Who s who of Rhodesia Mauritius Central and East Africa A Social History of the University Presses in Apartheid South Africa Elizabeth Le Roux,2015-10-14 In A History of the University Presses in Apartheid South Africa Elizabeth le Roux examines scholarly publishing history academic freedom and knowledge production during the apartheid era Using archival materials comprehensive bibliographies and political sociology theory this work analyses the origins publishing lists and philosophies of the university presses The university presses are often associated with anti apartheid publishing and the promotion of academic freedom but this work reveals both greater complicity and complexity Elizabeth le Roux demonstrates that the university presses cannot be considered oppositional because they did not resist censorship and because they operated within the constraints of the higher education system but their publishing strategies became more liberal over time
