To The Islands Text Classics:

To the Islands Randolph Stow, 2015-08-26 Behind the uneasy trees rose the hills and beyond them again the country of the lost huge wilderness between this last haunt of civilization and the unpeopled sea Exhausted and losing faith an Anglican minister flees his mission in Australia's northwest for the vast emptiness of the outback In the soul country of the desert the old man searches for the islands of the Aboriginal dead reflecting on past transgressions and on his life's work A Lear like tale of madness and destruction published when Randolph Stow was only twenty two To the Islands is compelling and wise a poetic masterpiece Julian Randolph Mick Stow was born in Geraldton Western Australia in 1935 He attended local schools before boarding at Guildford Grammar in Perth where the renowned author Kenneth Mackenzie had been a student While at university he sent his poems to a British publisher The resulting collection Act One won the Australian Literature Society's Gold Medal in 1957 as did the prolific young writer's third novel To the Islands the following year To the Islands also won the 1958 Miles Franklin Literary Award Stow reworked the novel for a second edition almost twenty five years later but never allowed its two predecessors to be republished He worked briefly as an anthropologist's assistant in New Guinea an experience that subsequently informed Visitants one of three masterful late novels then fell seriously ill and returned to Australia In the 1960s he lectured at universities in Australia and England and lived in America on a Harkness fellowship He published his second collection of verse Outrider the novel Tourmaline on which critical opinion was divided and his most popular fiction The Merry Go Round in the Sea and Midnite For years afterwards Stow produced mainly poetry libretti and reviews In 1969 he settled permanently in England first in Suffolk then in Essex where he moved in 1981 He received the 1979 Patrick White Award Randolph Stow died in 2010 aged seventy four A private man a prodigiously gifted yet intermittently silent author he has been hailed as the least visible figure of that great twentieth century triumvirate of Australian novelists whose other members are Patrick White and Christina Stead Praise for To the Islands To the Islands is a deeply moving and compassionate novel whose message and wisdom is still important today which is why it deserves to be recognised as an important work of Australian literature Conversation To the Islands is a masterpiece ANZ LitLovers

Powerful and convincing An Australian classic Anthony J Hassal A Stairway to Paradise Madeleine St John, 2018-10-01 Alex and Andrew are friends And Barbara Barbara is a goddess Here is the eternal triangle the story of three people in an unhappy tangle of emotions none able to articulate the precise quality of their longing and dissatisfaction Are any of them truly interested in reaching the paradise they claim to be seeking or are they actually trying to avoid it In St John's hands what is commonplace is transformed and transcendent This is the work of an extraordinary writer MADELEINE ST JOHN was born in Sydney in 1941 Her father Edward was a barrister and Liberal politician Her mother Sylvette committed suicide in 1954 when Madeleine was twelve Her death she later said obviously changed everything St John studied Arts at Sydney University where her contemporaries included Bruce Beresford Germaine Greer Clive James and Robert Hughes In 1965 she married Chris Tillam a fellow student and they moved to the United States where they first attended Stanford and later Cambridge From Cambridge St John relocated to London in 1968 with the hope that Chris would follow The couple did not reunite and the marriage ended St John settled in Notting Hill She worked at a series of odd jobs and then in 1993 published her first novel The Women in Black the only book she set in Australia When her third novel The Essence of the Thing 1997 was shortlisted for the Man Booker Prize she became the first Australian woman to receive this honour St John died in 2006 She had been so incensed after seeing errors in a French edition of one of her novels that she stipulated in her will that there were to be no more translations of her work Not much in the way of folly escapes Madeleine St John and the oubliette she opens into the darker reaches of the spirit is unsettling The Times St John proves herself a comic humane observer Newsday Madeleine St John is brilliant on the elliptical way lovers talk to each other Daily Telegraph

Sebastiano Tusa professor head of heritage agencies and councillor for Cultural Heritage for the Sicilian Region promoted the exploration of the island's heritage through international collaboration His decades of fostering research initiatives not only produced rich archaeological results spanning the Palaeolithic to the modern era but brought scholars from a range of schools and disciplines to work together in Sicily Through his efforts uniquely productive methodological theoretical and interpretative networks were created Their impact extends far beyond Sicily and Italy To highlight these networks and their results the Institutum Romanum Finlandiae the Swedish Institute in Rome the Norwegian Institute in Rome the British School at Rome and the Assessorato dei Beni Culturali of Sicily with generous support from the Swedish Riksbankens Jubileumsfond assembled this anthology of papers The aim is to present a selection of the work of and results from contemporary multi national research projects in Sicily The collaboration between the Sicilian and international partners often in an interdisciplinary framework has generated important results and perspectives The articles in this volume present research projects from throughout the island The core of the articles is concerned with the Archaic through to the Roman period but diachronic studies also trace lines back to the Stone Age and up to the contemporary era A range of methods and sources are explored thus creating an up to date volume that is a referential gateway to contemporary Sicilian archaeology

The Chinese Classics: The Shoo king. 2d ed., with minor text corrections James Legge, 1960     Ultimate Island Nicholas Ruddick, 1993-01-26 This study confronts current influential theories that science fiction is either an American phenomenon or an international one The study rejects the idea that British science fiction is distinguishable only by its pessimistic outlook while also rejecting the idea that other designations such as scientific romance or speculative fiction better fit the British product Instead the study traces the evolution of British science fiction showing how H G Wells synthesized various strains in English literature and how later writers conscious of this Wellsian tradition built upon Wells's literary achievement An introduction defines what might reasonably be placed under the heading British science fiction and why Chapter 1 examines previous critical ideas about the nature of British science fiction revealing that most of them are based on untested assumptions Chapter 2 explores the significance of the dominant motif of the island in British SF a motif that suggests that British SF and mainstream English literature have been long and fruitfully intertwined Chapters 3 and 4 deal respectively with British disaster fiction before and after the Second World War They focus on why British science fiction has so frequently seemed obsessed with catastrophe Chapter 5 a polemical conclusion deals with the future of British science fiction based on its current predicament Ultimate Island forms a theoretical counterpart to the author's recently published British Science Fiction A Chronology 1478-1990 Greenwood 1992 which defines the historical scope of the field
