Misrepresented People Darrius D'wayne Hills, 2025-01-21. Offers a Black male response to the challenge of womanist thought. Although much Black religious scholarship has engaged with feminist theory and womanist thought, a gap remains where little work has been done in religious studies to investigate the Black male experience. A Misrepresented People explores how African American men grapple with identity and masculinity in relation to Black religious thought. This book counters the dominant portrayal of Black men in American society as suspicious, morally defective and irredeemable and showcases the strength and relevance of Black religious thought in developing alternative notions of Black manhood. Drawing on womanist discourses, African American religious thought, literature and Black male studies as well as an examination of the writings and sermons of Howard Thurman and Martin Luther King Jr, Darrius D'wayne Hills offers a vision of Black male identity that is grounded in interpersonal relationships and connection. Positioning identity formation as a religious concern, Hills expands the application of religious scholarship toward the complex social and material realities faced by Black men. In doing so, this volume offers a much needed new model for understanding Black male gender identity, illustrating how religious thought fosters more holistic and livable futures for African American men. Traumatic Memory and the Works of V.S. Naipaul and Toni Morrison Alshaymaa Mohamed Ahmed, 2022-07-07 Comparative Postcolonialism in the Works of V S Naipaul and Toni Morrison Fragmented Identities begins with an overview of its theoretical framework highlighting the intersectional relationship between postcolonial literature and comparative literature Tracing selected novels by Naipaul and Morrison the book takes as a starting point Fanon's three phase journey of the decolonizing process In the first phase of mimicry Naipaul's and Morrison's earlier novels represent the assimilation of indigenous people into dominant hegemonic cultures The second phase is envisioned as the re narration or re interpretation of the past and old legends of indigenous culture Morrison succeeds in asserting that her ancestors past is the only way to celebrate a cultural identity but Naipaul tends to criticize and neglect his past and his original indigenous culture The third phase marks the emergence of a revolutionary literature in which Naipaul and Morrison guide their people to hybridity as a new way of becoming and resisting the hegemonic dichotomies in dominant societies
