Intelligent Tutoring Systems Barry P. Goettl, Henry M. Halff, Carol L. Redfield, Valerie J. Shute, 2003-06-29 The first International Conference on Intelligent Tutoring Systems ITS was held ten years ago in Montreal ITS 88 It was so well received by the international community that the organizers decided to do it again in Montreal four years later in 1992 and then again in 1996 ITS 98 differs from the previous ones in that this is the first time the conference has been held outside of Montreal and it's only been two years not four since the last one One interesting aspect of the ITS conferences is that they are not explicitly bound to some organization e.g. IEEE or AACE Rather the founder of these conferences Claude Frasson started them as a means to congregate researchers actively involved in the ITS field and provide a forum for presentation and debate of the most currently challenging issues Thus the unifying theme is science This year's hot topics differ from those in the earlier ITS conferences as they reflect ever changing trends in ITS research A few of the issues being examined at ITS 98 include Web based tutoring systems deploying ITS in the real world tutoring and authoring tools architectures and knowledge structure and representation Teaching Secondary Mathematics David Rock, Douglas K. interested in deeper study or application of the theory The book begins with preliminary remarks that set the stage for the author's concrete approach to matrix theory and the consideration of matrices as hypercomplex numbers Dr Eves then goes on to cover fundamental concepts and operations equivalence determinants matrices with polynomial elements similarity and congruence A final optional chapter considers matrix theory from a generalized or abstract viewpoint extending it to arbitrary number rings and fields vector spaces and linear transformations of vector spaces The author's concluding remarks direct the interested student to possible avenues of further study in matrix theory while an extensive bibliography rounds out the book Students of matrix theory will especially appreciate the many excellent problems solutions not provided included in each chapter which are not just routine calculation exercises but involve proof and extension of the concepts and material of the text Scientists engineers economists and others whose work involves this important area of mathematics will welcome the variety of special types of matrices and determinants discussed which make the book not only a comprehensive introduction to the field but a valuable resource and reference work
