The Chronological History of the Roanoke Missionary Baptist Association and Its Founders from 1866-1966

DR. LINWOOD MORINGS BOONE, 2012-03-06 The author has wonderfully traced the origins of the Roanoke Missionary Baptist Association and its Founders from 1866 to 1966. He has included brief but substantive narratives of the lives of the Founding Fathers, namely L. W. Boone, Z. H. Berry, H. H. Hays, C. E. Hodges, C. E. Johnson, William Reid Emanuel Reynolds, and others. Sufficient attention has been given to the activities of the Women Missionary and Education Union. Pictures and narratives of 10 of its previous presidents have been enshrined in the chapter entitled "Woman: What of our Past." Historical sketches and pictures of selected churches within the Roanoke Missionary Baptist Association display the far-reaching effects of the Founding Fathers. The concluding chapter details the founding of the West Roanoke Missionary Baptist Association from the Roanoke Missionary Baptist Association. Dr. Boone has taken the baton from others who knew that this important historical contribution needed to be gathered, appreciated, shared, and celebrated for a job well done. Unfortunately, no one was able to consistently pursue this great endeavor before Dr. Boone's extensive and exhaustive work represented here. Massive in its scope, the volume guides the reader in a comprehensive and challenging look at the origin and the significance of the Roanoke Missionary Baptist Association and the importance of the Founding Fathers and the work with the North Carolina and Virginia abolitionists. The lives of the Founding Fathers and the lives of the first three generations of pastors and officials are succinctly presented as they lifted up the essential meaning of liberation for the pastor and the local congregations in northeastern North Carolina. The History of the Roanoke Missionary Baptist Association from 1866-1966 provides critical resources for the study of the formation of this grand institution. Dr. Boone has put in place a solid foundation that can be built upon as new information becomes available. He is married to the former Amanda Battle of Richmond, VA. They reside in Hampton Roads, Virginia.

White Women, Rape, and the Power of Race in Virginia, 1900-1960 Lisa Lindquist Dorr, 2005-12-15 For decades historians have primarily analyzed charges of black on white rape in the South through accounts of lynching or manifestly unfair trial proceedings suggesting that white southerners invariably responded with extralegal violence and sham trials when white women accused black men of assault Lisa Lindquist Dorr challenges this view with a careful study of legal records newspapers and clemency files from early twentieth century Virginia White Virginians inflammatory rhetoric she argues did not necessarily predict black men's ultimate punishment While trials were often grand public spectacles at which white men acted to protect white women and to police interracial relationships Dorr points to cracks in white solidarity across class and gender lines At the same time trials and pardon proceedings presented African Americans with opportunities to challenge white racial power Taken together these cases uncover a world in which the mandates of segregation did not always hold sway in which whites and blacks interacted in the most intimate of ways and in which white women and white men saw their interests in conflict In Dorr's account cases of black on white rape illuminate the paradoxes at the heart of segregated southern society the tension between civilization and savagery the desire for orderly and predictable racial boundaries despite conflicts among whites and relationships across racial boundaries and the dignity of African Americans in a system dependent on their supposed inferiority The rhetoric of protecting white women spoke of white supremacy and patriarchy but its practice revealed the limits of both

A Forgotten Migration Crystal R. Sanders, 2024-10-01 A Forgotten Migration tells the little known story of segregation scholarships awarded by states in the US South to Black students seeking graduate education in the pre Brown v Board of Education era Under the Plessy v Ferguson decision decades earlier southern states could provide graduate opportunities for African Americans by creating separate but equal graduate programs at tax supported Black colleges or by admitting Black students to historically white institutions Most did neither and instead paid to send Black students out of state for graduate education Crystal R Sanders examines Black graduate students who relocated to the North Midwest and West to continue their education with segregation scholarships revealing the many challenges they faced along the way Students that entered out of state programs endured long and tedious travel financial hardship racial discrimination isolation and homesickness With the passage of Brown in 1954 segregation scholarships began to wane but the integration of graduate programs at southern public universities was slow In telling this story Sanders demonstrates how white efforts to preserve segregation led to the underfunding of public Black colleges furthering racial inequality in American higher education

Lynching and Spectacle Amy Louise Wood,2011-02-01 Lynch mobs in late nineteenth and early twentieth century America exacted horrifying public torture and mutilation on their victims In Lynching and Spectacle Amy Wood explains what it meant for white Americans to perform and witness these sadistic spectacles and how lynching played a role in establishing and affirming white supremacy Lynching Wood argues overlapped with a variety of cultural practices and performances both traditional and modern including public executions religious rituals photography and cinema all which encouraged the horrific violence and gave it social acceptability However she also shows how the national dissemination of lynching images ultimately fueled the momentum of the antilynching movement and the decline of the practice Using a wide range of sources including photos newspaper reports pro and antilynching pamphlets early films and local city and church records Wood reconfigures our understanding of lynching s relationship to modern life Wood expounds on the critical role lynching spectacles played in establishing and affirming white supremacy at the turn of the century particularly in towns and cities experiencing great social instability and change She also shows how the national dissemination of lynching images fueled the momentum of the antilynching movement and ultimately led to the decline of lynching By examining lynching spectacles alongside both traditional and modern practices and within both local and national contexts Wood reconfigures our understanding of lynching s relationship to modern life
