Vivre De Paysage Ou L'impensé De La Raison:

Vivre de paysage ou L'impensé de la Raison François Jullien, 2014-05-21 T00:00:00+02:00 En d'abord finissant le paysage comme la partie d'un pays que la nature présente un observateur qu'avons nous oublié Car l'espace ouvert par le paysage est il bien cette portion d'étendue qu'y découpe l'horizon Car sommes nous devant le paysage comme devant un spectacle Et d'abord est ce seulement par la vue qu'on peut y accéder ou que signifie regarder En nommant le paysage montagne s'eau x la Chine qui est la première civilisation avoir pensé le paysage nous sort puissamment de tels partis pris Elle dit la corrélation du Haut et du Bas de l'immobile et du mouvant de ce qui a forme et de ce qui est sans forme ou encore de ce qu'on voit et de ce qu'on entend Dans ce champ tensionnel instauré par le paysage le perceptif devient en même temps affectif et de ces formes qui sont aussi des flux se dégage une dimension d'esprit qui fait entrer en connivence Le paysage n'est plus affaire de vue mais du vivre Une invitation remonter dans les choix impensés de la Raison ainsi qu'à reconsidérer notre implication plus originaire dans le monde François Jullien

Living Off Landscape François Jullien, 2018-01-09 Is it only through vision that we can perceive a landscape Is the space opened by the landscape truly an expanse cut off by the horizon Do we observe a landscape in the way that we watch a show What ultimately does it mean to look In this important new book one of France's most influential living theorists argues that the first civilization to truly consider landscape was China In giving landscape the name mountain s water s the Chinese language provides a powerful alternative to Western biases The Chinese conception speaks of a correlation between high and low between the still and the motile between what has form and what is formless between what we see and what we hear No longer a matter of vision landscape becomes a matter of living François Jullien invites the reader to explore reason's unthought choices and to take a fresh look at our more basic involvement in the world

Fijalkowski,2019-11-25 This new English translation of François Jullien's work is a compelling summation of his thinking on the comparison between Western and Chinese thought The title From Being to Living summarises his essential point that western thinking is obsessed by and determined as well as limited by the notion of Being whereas traditional Chinese thought was always situated in Living Organized as a lexicon around some 20 concepts that juxtapose Chinese and Western thought Jullien explores the ways the two have historically evolved and how many aspects of Chinese thought developed in complete isolation from the West revealing a different way of relating to the world Translated by Michael Richardson and Krzysztof Fijalkowski this text explores Chinese thinking and language in order to excavate elements from them that reveal the fault lines of western thinking This is an important book for students scholars and practitioners alike across the Social Sciences

Forms of Experienced Environments Nathalie Blanc,Théa Manola,Patrick Degeorges,2020-02-26 This book explores environmental forms in terms of their relationships to the socio politico ecological transformations currently in progress Today the environment is a central theme in political discourse scientific work and everyday life It is multi dimensional it is a living space a socio ecological system and a field of research and action However despite the presence and diversity of existing approaches the ways in which policies address environmental issues remain mainly focused on control highlighting the techno ecological managerial and curative dimensions of public actions Although public action tends to instrumentalise the environment the humanities and social sciences have initiated significant reflections in this field proposing alternative ways of thinking about the environment in its multiple aspects and scales As part of another approach to the environment that mirrors contemporary developments this book adopts a form based approach which has been largely neglected by previous studies dealing with environmental themes The analyses provided here will open up a new perspective on the relationships between people aesthetics and environments and are drawn from different schools of research highlighting the huge potential of reading the environment through forms or conversely a reading of environmental forms

Authority and Displacement in the English-Speaking World (Volume II) Florence Labaune-Demeule, 2016-01-14 Whether one thinks of the modern world or of more remote times both seem to have been affected if not moulded by the interaction between the concepts of authority and displacement Indeed political and social sources of authority have often been the causes of major geographical displacements as can be illustrated by the numerous waves of migration which have been observed in the past and which are still present today such as the transportation of slaves from African to American coasts in colonial times If displacement can often be understood as spatial displacement it can also be synonymous with psychological social and even aesthetic displacement for instance through different artistic means or through the use of stylistic discursive devices Displacement also entails displacement dislocation as well as dislocation or chaos This suggests that the etymological meaning of the term authority auctoritas has to be highlighted thus referring to the author of a particular work and to the different manifestations of the authorial persona in a work of art This collection of essays in two volumes examines the relationships between the concepts of authority and displacement in the English speaking world without restricting the analysis to a particular area or to the field of literature Some essays do indeed deal with literature from different spatial areas and temporal eras while others look into these concepts from a more cultural or aesthetic point of view Volume Two Exploring American Shores includes essays on the place of famous fugitives in American culture notably through the story of Bonnie and Clyde as well as on the links between displacement authority and sculpture on the one hand Placing and Replacing the Capitol Sculptures and on the links between displacement and photography on the other through a study of Joel Sternfeld's Walking the High Line In addition to investigations of Louise Erdrich's novel Books and Islands in Ojibwe Country Canadian landscapes in transit will be studied to highlight the displacement of the Western landscape tradition in English Canada The volume concludes with a study of some literary works by several writers of Guyanese origin first with an essay comparing Martin Carter's and L. On Gontran Damas's literary productions and then with an essay devoted to Fred D. Aguiar's novel The Longest Memory 1994

What role does reason have in tackling the catastrophic ecological situation of the early 21st century Can the concept shrug off its problematic role in Western epistemology and find a new place and function in dealing with the Anthropocene In Ecological Reasonings Kilian Jörg argues that we ignore reason at our peril This book revolves around the idea that in order to salvage reason we must include it in the current move to pluralize the key concepts of Western philosophy where we once talked of nature science and technology we now talk about nature's sciences and technologies In the same way it is time to reconceptualize reason as reasonings a diverse and multi-perspectival wealth of interactions that can create a vital alternative to the mainstream academic thought Drawing on a broad span of theoretical traditions including new materialism eco-feminism embodied performance and speculative philosophy Jörg weaves countless voices and aspects together to demonstrate the rich texture of his pluralized vision The impact of these new reasonings on the pressing challenges of our time can be seen in the sheer scope of these elements from the role of artificial intelligence to the post-truth society and how science can shape our own self-understanding Somaesthetics and Design Culture , 2023-04-03 Design permeates every dimension of our lifeworld from the products we consume and the built environments in which we live to the adorned and stylized beings that we are and the natural preserves where we seek relief from the stressful bustle of urban life Design is where contrasting values of functionality and aesthetic pleasure converge At the core of design is the human soma an active perceptive subjectivity that creates and evaluates design but is also its cultivated product This collection of ten essays explores the somaesthetics of design in multiple fields from ritual craft and healthcare to architecture urbanism and the new media of extended realities

Vers une approche géopoétique Rachel Bouvet, 2015-05-06 T00:00:00-04:00 Toute perspective de lecture est liée à un ancrage géographique Chaque lecteur est habitué par des paysages Pour Rachel Bouvet ce paysage est celui de l'océan tel qu'on peut l'observer le long des côtes bretonnes Sensible à cet ancrage breton qu'elle partage avec les auteurs qu'elle étudie Kenneth White Victor Segalen et J M G Le Clézio elle montre que la géopoétique peut donner lieu à une approche singulière des textes littéraires

Apophatic Paths from Europe to China William Franke, 2018-02-20 An encounter between Franke's philosophy of the unsayable and Eastern apophatic wisdom in the domains of poetry thought and culture In Apophatic Paths from Europe to China William Franke brings his original philosophy of the unsayable previously developed from Western sources such as ancient Neoplatonism medieval mysticism and postmodern negative theology into dialogue with Eastern traditions of thought In particular he compares the Daoist Way of Chinese wisdom with Western apophatic thought that likewise pivots on recognizing the nonexistent the unthinkable and the unsayable Leveraging François Jullien's exegesis of the Chinese classics challenge to rethink the very basis of life and consciousness Franke proposes negative theology as an analogue to the Chinese model of thought which has long been recognized for its special attunement to silence at the limits of language Crucial to Franke's agenda is the endeavor to discern and renew the claim of universality rethought and reconfigured within the predicament of philosophy today considered specifically as a cultural or more exactly intercultural predicament Franke rethinks East West philosophical traditions to show the subcurrents in Western thought that correspond to the centrality of apophasis in Chinese and Asian thought whether it be the empty transcendent or the Way as indicator or allusion He shows how apophatic thought confounds the transcendent immanent duality and reworks it into an inseparability that can be consequential for our philosophical understanding of a natural universality Prasentj Duara author of The Crisis of Global Modernity Asian Traditions and a Sustainable Future The broad coverage of William Franke's book is impressive as it discusses many issues in philosophy religion and literature but at the same time it also has a clear focus and a special apophatic approach to the various issues in the humanities It is innovative creative and makes an important contribution to East West comparative studies and cross cultural understanding Highly recommended Zhang Longxi author of From Comparison to World Literature Up to now François Jullien's conception of Chinese thought has not had a full representation in English This book responds to that gap and opens a dialogue with other traditions of apophasis Haun Saussy author of Great Walls of Discourse and Other Adventures in Cultural China By highlighting Western phenomena that are comparable to the Chinese mainly in the apophatic tradition Franke succeeds in exposing the biases and blind spots in Jullien's as well as in Hall's and Ames's respective treatment of Chinese philosophy This book will stand as an important resource for the future of scholarly debates in these areas Karl Heinz Pohl editor of Chinese Thought in a Global Context A Dialogue Between Chinese and Western Philosophical Approaches Hospitalities Merle A. Williams, 2020-12-23 This collection of imaginative essays traces notions of hospitality across a sequence of theoretical permutations not only as an urgent challenge for our conflicted present but also as foundational for ethics and resonant within the play of language The plural form of the title highlights the inter implication of hospitality with its exclusive others holding suspicious rejection in tension with the receptiveness that transforms socio cultural relations Geographically the collection traverses the globe from Australia and Africa to Britain Europe and the United States weaving exchanges from south to north as well as south to south and thoughtfully remapping our world Temporally the chapters range from the primordial hospitality offered by the earth through the Middle Ages to contemporary detention centres and the crisis of homelessness Thematically hospitality embraces sites of dwelling and the land humans and animals in their complex embodiment spectres and the dead dolls and art objects

This text openly welcomes the reader to participate in shaping fresh critical discourses of the hospitable whether in literary and linguistic studies art and architecture philosophy or politics Images of Europe Francesco Mangiapane, Tiziana Migliore, 2021-05-20 This book deals with the fundamental semantics of images of Europe which consist of valences mirror beliefs and affectivities This is why it relaunched the importance of the European discourse in its symbolic dimension As such it explores the many images of Europe or rather the many images through which European discourse is actually constituted in daily life in search of their enunciative responsibility in today's world for determining the current State of the Union The identity of the European continent is based on a millenary tension between universalism and particularism images of Europe have in fact been alternately inspired over the centuries by a model of homogeneity Roman and Carolingian imperial disposition on the one hand and by a model of fragmentation a Europe of city states municipalities regions and small fatherlands on the other In the European Union a political and economic organism this issue has recently been amplified to the point that it has reentered public debate and political parties that are only recognizable for being Europeanists or anti Europeanists are now ubiquitous In this regard one major bone of contention is how to portray the quintessential aspects of the European territory which are either interpreted as thresholds to be overcome in the name of a model of United Europe integral totality or are instead regarded as insurmountable obstacles for a Europe that is irreparably and perhaps according to anti Europeanists fortunately fragmented partitive totality Further this is to be done without excluding the possibility of contradictory and complementary solutions to these binary visions In this context the book analyzes various texts in order to obtain a more precise picture of the clash reveal its semiotic forms and by doing so identify a way out of the crisis
