Tourism Management 4th Edition Weaver:

Tourism Peter Robinson, 2012 offers a comprehensive collection of the most frequently studied concepts in the field. Within the text, key terms, concepts, typologies, and frameworks are examined in the context of the broader social sciences, blending together theory and practice to explore the scope of the subject. Terms covered include authenticity, destination management, geographies of tourism, hospitality, LGBT tourism, mobility, planning, society and culture, sociology in tourism, and tourism strategy. Each entry contextualizes, defines, and debates the concept discussed, providing an excellent starting point for those studying tourism for the first time and a quick reference for those who are more experienced. With case studies, examples, and further reading throughout, this text will be invaluable for all undergraduate and postgraduate tourism students.

Natural Area Tourism David Newsome, Susan A. Moore, Ross K. Dowling, 2012-12-21. Natural Area Tourism provides a comprehensive description of tourism in natural areas, allowing readers to understand the scope of complexities arising from and possibilities of undertaking successful tourism developments in natural areas. Furthermore, the second edition contains an overview of recent developments such as mountain biking, adventure activities in protected areas, and geotourism. There is new content and examples from the Asian region on managing the tourism industry and management effectiveness. The book also considers important new developments in monitoring, such as remote sensing and the use of GIS, as well as the use of electronic educational resources in delivering interpretation. Attention is given to the implications of climate change, inadequate protected area security, and the ever-increasing influence of the landscape matrix. Moreover, the second edition includes a comprehensive review of the new literature that has emerged since the publication of the first edition more than a decade ago. Accordingly, this book will remain an invaluable resource and account of natural area tourism for many years to come.

Tourism and Development in Southeast Asia Claudia Dolezal, Alexander Trupp, Huong T. Bui, 2020-03-24. This book analyses the role tourism plays for sustainable development in Southeast Asia. It seeks to assess tourism's impact on residents and localities across the region by critically debating and offering new understandings of its dynamics on the global and local levels. Offering a myriad of case studies from a range of different countries in the region, this book is interdisciplinary in nature, thereby presenting a comprehensive overview of tourism's current and future role in development. Divided into four parts, it discusses the nexus of tourism and development at both the regional and national levels, with a focus on theoretical and methodological foundations, protected areas, local communities, and broader issues of governance. Contributors from within and outside of Southeast Asia raise awareness of the local challenges, including issues of ownership or unequal power relations, and celebrate best practice examples where tourism can be regarded as making a positive difference to residents' life. The first edited volume to examine a comprehensive analysis of tourism in Southeast Asia as both an economic and social phenomenon through the lens of development, this book will be useful to students and scholars of tourism, development, Southeast Asian culture and society, and Asian Studies more generally.
