- When you are happy with your arrangement, stick the cards to the paper.
- Draw lines between the terms that seems to be connected.
- Write on the lines a short explanation of the link. Use arrows to show which way the link goes. (Different links can go in both directions for any pair of terms and there can be more than one link in any direction. There does not have to be a link between all the terms.)
- On blank card(s) add any missing terms that you think are important, and add to the links.
