Peterson,2024-08-22

A principal challenge for both biological and machine vision systems is to integrate and organize the diversity of cues received from the environment into the coherent global representations we experience and require to make good decisions and take effective actions Early psychological investigations date back more than 100 years to the seminal work of the Gestalt school Yet in the last 50 years neuroscientific and computational approaches to understanding perceptual organization have become equally important and a full understanding requires integration of all three approaches This highly interdisciplinary Research Topic welcomes contributions spanning Computer Science Psychology and Neuroscience with the aim of presenting a single unified collection that will encourage integration and cross fertilization across disciplines Countering Economic Crime Axel

Palmer,2017-09-22 Economic crime is a significant feature of the UK's economic landscape and yet despite the government's bold mission statements to hold those suspected of financial wrongdoing to account as part of their day of reckoning and serious about white collar crime agenda there is a sense that this is still not being done effectively This book examines the history of the creation of the UK's anti economic crime institutions and accompanying legislation providing a critique of their effectiveness The book analyses whether the recent regulatory regime is fit for purpose as well as being appropriate for the future In order to explore how the UK's economic crime strategies could be improved the book takes a comparative approach analysing policy and legislative responses to economic crime in the United States and Australia in order to determine whether the UK could or should import similar structures or laws to improve the enforcement of UK economic crime
