heritage as something confined wished for and thus worth saving and the unruly legacies ignoring such work of purification urges a reconsideration of strategies and rationales for how to deal with heritage Through multidisciplinary approaches ranging from archaeology and heritage studies to philosophy and environmental politics the contributions bring heritage into dialogue with a wide range of topics including industrialisation material profusion modernist architectural material coastal reclamations barbed wire and naval mines The result is a volume that profoundly challenges traditional understandings of heritage as an exclusive reserve of things selected and managed by us Triumph Spitfire, Covers All Models from 1962 Onwards Peter Ward,1974
