Edinburgh Companion to the Arab Novel in English Nouri Gana, 2015-04-17 Opening up the field of diasporic Anglo Arab literature to critical debate this companion spans from the first Arab novel in 1911 to the resurgence of the Anglo Arabic novel in the last 20 years There are chapters on authors such as Ameen Rihani Ahdaf The harem, slavery and British imperial culture Diane Robinson-Dunn, 2017-03-01 This book focuses on British efforts to suppress the traffic in female slaves destined for Egyptian harems during the late nineteenth century It considers this campaign in relation to gender debates in England and examines the ways in which the assumptions and dominant imperialist discourses of these abolitionists were challenged by the newly established Muslim communities in England as well as by English people who converted to or were sympathetic with Islam While previous scholars have treated antislavery activity in Egypt first and foremost as an extension of earlier efforts to abolish plantation slavery in the New World this book considers it in terms of encounters with Islam during a period which it argues marked a new departure in Anglo Muslim relations This approach illuminates the role of Islam in the creation of English national identities within the global cultural system of the British Empire This book would appeal to those with an interest in British imperial history Islam gender feminism and women's studies slavery and race the formation of national identities global processes Orientalism and Middle Eastern studies

Contemporary Arab-American Literature Carol Fadda-Conrey, 2014 The last couple of decades have witnessed a flourishing of Arab American literature across multiple genres Yet increased interest in this literature is ironically paralleled

by a prevalent bias against Arabs and Muslims that portrays their long presence in the US as a recent and unwelcome phenomenon Spanning the 1990s to the present Carol Fadda Conrey takes in the sweep of literary and cultural texts by Arab American writers in order to understand the ways in which their depictions of Arab homelands whether actual or imagined play a crucial role in shaping cultural articulations of US citizenship and belonging By asserting themselves within a US framework while maintaining connections to their homelands Arab Americans contest the blanket representations of themselves as dictated by the US nation state Deploying a multidisciplinary framework at the intersection of Middle Eastern studies US ethnic studies and diaspora studies Fadda Conrey argues for a transnational discourse that overturns the often rigid affiliations embedded in ethnic labels Tracing the shifts in transnational perspectives from the founders of Arab American literature like Gibran Kahlil Gibran and Ameen Rihani to modern writers such as Naomi Shihab Nye Joseph Geha Randa Jarrar and Suheir Hammad Fadda Conrey finds that contemporary Arab American writers depict strong yet complex attachments to the US landscape She explores how the idea of home is negotiated between immigrant parents and subsequent generations alongside analyses of texts that work toward fostering more nuanced understandings of Arab and Muslim identities in the wake of post 9 11 anti Arab sentiments Ten Years' Captivity in the Mahdi's Camp 1882-1892 Josef Ohrwalder, F. R. Sir Wingate, 2021-04-25 Exploring the intersection of personal testimony and historical analysis Ten Years Captivity in the Mahdi s Camp 1882 1892 is an enlightening collection that captures a significant period of African colonial history Through a blend of narrative accounts and analytical observations this anthology documents the tumultuous experience of a decade spent within the Mahdist state offering a rare glimpse into the era s political and socio cultural dynamics The anthology presents a tapestry of literary styles from vivid eyewitness narratives to incisive scholarly interpretations creating a comprehensive picture of captivity and survival in an African kingdom rife with revolution and change Contributors such as Josef Ohrwalder and F R Sir Wingate lend their distinct voices to the anthology shaping a multifaceted dialogue on themes of resilience identity and imperialism Ohrwalder with his firsthand experiences complements Wingate s military and administrative insights each enriching the text with their unique perspectives The anthology situates itself within the backdrop of late 19th century colonial encounters and Mahdism intersecting with broader historical movements and expanding the reader s comprehension of this complex time of conflict and transformation This collection offers readers a remarkable opportunity to immerse themselves in the diverse narratives and interpretations surrounding a pivotal historical epoch Its rich array of styles and perspectives serves as a powerful educational tool encouraging readers to engage deeply with both the microcosm of individual struggles and the macrocosm of global colonial dynamics By bridging personal narratives with broader socio political analysis this anthology fosters a nuanced dialogue that is both intellectually compelling and profoundly illuminating making it an indispensable read for anyone interested in the era s history Ten Years' Captivity in the Mahdi's Camp, 1882-1892 Joseph Ohrwalder, 1893 Asiatic Journal and

Shouting in a Cage Sofia Fenner, 2023-07-11 Durable authoritarian rule often rests on the co optation of challengers The conventional story is straightforward rulers entice opposition groups to sell out offering them benefits if they set aside their antiauthoritarian aspirations and become part of the system However co optation does not always neutralize former adversaries and even seemingly domesticated opponents can turn on their rulers Co optation does weaken opposition but it is not as simple reliable or transactional as existing theories claim Shouting in a Cage offers new ways to understand co optation's power and its limits by examining two co opted parties the Wafd Party in Egypt and the Istiqlal Party in Morocco Sofia Fenner argues that co optation is less a corrupt bargain than a discursive contest a clash of competing interpretations Co opted parties conjure up imagined futures in which their short term choices will lead to the realization of their long term democratic goals Meanwhile other actors point to the disconnect between these parties antiauthoritarian aspirations and their participation in authoritarian systems Fenner demonstrates that co opted parties come to look hypocritical precisely because they refuse to give up their oppositional commitments Their credibility sapped they become unappealing allies and eventually political afterthoughts However such parties retain a surprising capacity for opposition rooted in the literal and metaphorical idea of party as family Based on extensive archival research and ethnographic fieldwork in North Africa Shouting in a Cage broadens our understanding of political behavior under
