Latino/a Literature in the Classroom Frederick Luis Aldama,2015-06-19 In one of the most rapidly growing areas of literary study this volume provides the first comprehensive guide to teaching Latino a literature in all variety of learning environments Essays by internationally renowned scholars offer an array of approaches and methods to the teaching of the novel short story plays poetry autobiography testimonial comic book children and young adult literature film performance art and multi media digital texts among others The essays provide conceptual vocabularies and tools to help teachers design courses that pay attention to Issues of form across a range of storytelling media Issues of content such as theme and character Issues of historical periods linguistic communities and regions Issues of institutional classroom settings The volume innovatively adds to and complicates the broader humanities curriculum by offering new possibilities for pedagogical practice

Giving Form to an Asian and Latinx America Long Le-Khac,2020-03-03 Crossing distinct literatures histories and politics Giving Form to an Asian and Latinx America reveals the intertwined story of contemporary Asian Americans and Latinxs through a shared literary aesthetic Their transfictional literature creates expansive imagined worlds in which distinct stories coexist offering artistic shape to their linked political and economic struggles Long Le Khac explores the work of writers such as Sandra Cisneros Karen Tei Yamashita Junot D az and Aimee Phan He shows how their fictions capture the uneven economic opportunities of the post civil rights era the Cold War as it exploded across Asia and Latin America and the Asian and Latin American labor flows powering global capitalism today Read together Asian American and Latinx literatures convey astonishing diversity and untapped possibilities for coalition within the United States fastest growing immigrant and minority communities to understand the changing shape of these communities we must see how they have formed in relation to each other As the U S population approaches a minority majority threshold we urgently need methods that can look across the divisions and unequal positions of the racial system Giving Form to an Asian and Latinx America leads the way with a vision for the future built on panethnic and cross racial solidarity

Teaching Literature in Translation Brian James Baer,Michelle Woods,2022-07-29 The teaching of texts in translation has become an increasingly common practice but so too has the teaching of texts from languages and cultures with which the instructor may have little or no familiarity The authors in this volume present a variety of pedagogical approaches to promote translation literacy and to address the distinct phenomenology of translated texts The approaches set forward in this volume address the nature of the translator s task and how texts travel across linguistic and cultural boundaries in translation including how they are packaged for new audiences with the aim of fostering critical reading practices that focus on translations as translations The organizing principle of the book is the specific pedagogical contexts in which translated texts are being used such as courses on a single work survey courses on a single national literature or a single author and courses on world literature Examples are provided from the widest possible variety of world languages and literary traditions as well as modes of writing prose poetry drama film and religious and historical texts with the aim that many of the pedagogical approaches and strategies can be easily adapted for use with other works and traditions An introductory section by the editors Brian James Baer and Michelle Woods sets the theoretical stage for the volume Written and edited by authorities in the field of literature and translation this book is an essential manual for all instructors and lecturers in world and comparative literature and literary translation The Great
