The Bureau Of Infrastructure Transport And Regional Economics Report

Geoffrey Till, Patrick Bratton

The Bureau Of Infrastructure Transport And Regional Economics Report:

Utilities Reform in Twenty-First Century Australia Malcolm Abbott, Bruce Cohen, 2021 The book traces the development and consequences of the economic reform measures undertaken in the utilities sector in Australia communications energy water wastewater services and transport in the last years of the 20th century and early decades of the 21st century Australia's Unintended Cities Richard Tomlinson, 2012-11-23 Australia's Unintended Cities identifies and researches housing and housing related urban outcomes that are unintended consequences of other policies the structure of incentives and disincentives for the housing market and governance arrangements for metropolitan areas and planning and service delivery It is argued that unintended consequences have a greater impact on the housing market and Australia's cities and their future than policies directly concerned with housing urban policy and metropolitan strategic planning The book will inform policy makers including government officials consultants and politicians It will also be used by academics and students in various areas of urban policy such as housing and urban planning as well as environment public policy and economics

ITF Research Reports Liberalisation of Air Transport International Transport Forum, 2019-05-03 Aviation is one of the most regulated industries in the world Much of this regulation is safety related to mitigate the inherent risks tied with air transport But aviation is also subject to economic regulation that influences which airline flies which route at which frequency capacity and price It even stipulates the nationality of its owners and decision makers Aviation has freed itself from some restrictions over the past three decades with many benefits to society Yet liberalisation has also raised issues with regard to maintaining fair competition high labour standards and mitigating aviation's growing environmental impact

Green Aviation Ramesh Agarwal, Fayette Collier, Andreas Schaefer, Allan Seabridge, 2016-09-20 Green Aviation is the first authoritative overview of both engineering and operational measures to mitigate the environmental impact of aviation It addresses the current status of measures to reduce the environmental impact of air travel The chapters cover such items as Engineering and technology related subjects aerodynamics engines fuels structures etc Operations air traffic management and infrastructure Policy and regulatory aspects regarding atmospheric and noise pollution With contributions from leading experts this volume is intended to be a valuable addition and useful resource for aerospace manufacturers and suppliers governmental and industrial aerospace research establishments airline and aviation industries university engineering and science departments and industry analysts consultants and researchers

City Limits Jane-Frances Kelly, Paul Donegan, 2015-03-02 Our bush heritage helped to define our identity but today Australia is a nation of cities A higher proportion of Australians live in cities than almost any other country and most of our national wealth is generated in them For most of the twentieth century our cities gave us some of the highest living standards in the world But they are no longer keeping up with changes in how we live and how our economy works The distance between where people live and where they work is growing fast The housing market isn't working locking many Australians out of where and how they'd like to live The daily commute is getting longer putting pressure on social and family life and driving up living costs Instead of bringing us together Australia s cities are dividing Australians between young and old rich and poor the outer suburbs and the inner city Neglecting our cities has real consequences for our lives now and for our future prosperity Using stories and case studies to show how individuals families and businesses experience life in cities today this book provides an account of why Australia s cities are broken and how to fix them
