British Columbia Michael Dawson, 2007-10-01 Selling British Columbia is an entertaining examination of the development of the tourist industry in British Columbia between 1890 and 1970 Michael Dawson argues that in order to understand the roots of the fully fledged consumer culture that emerged in Canada after the Second World War it is necessary to understand the connections between the 1930s 1940s and the postwar era Cultural producers such as tourism promoters and the state infrastructure played important roles in fostering consumer demand particularly during the Depression the Second World War and throughout the postwar era Dawson draws upon promotional pamphlets newspapers advertisements and films as well as archival sources regarding government civic and international tourism organizations Central to his book is an examination of the representation of popular imagery and of how aboriginal and British cultures were commodified and marketed to potential tourists He also looks at the gendered aspect of these promotional campaigns particularly during the 1940s and challenges earlier interpretations regarding the relationship between tourism and nature in Canada Historians have tended to focus on either the first wave of consumerism from the 1880s to the 1920s or else on the era of economic expansion that followed World War Two As Dawson shows the 1930 45 period in particular was an important and dynamic one in the creation of Canadian and British Columbian consumer culture Michael Dawson s highly readable and engaging account of the development of the British Columbia tourist industry will be welcomed by British Columbian and Canadian historians as well as other scholars of tourism and consumerism Senate documents ,1885 The Bookseller ,1913
Post Magazine and Insurance Monitor ,1928 Abbott's Digest of All New York Reports Austin Abbott, 1915 The Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1871 Publisher and Bookseller ,1905 Vols for 1871 76 1913 14 include an extra number The Christmas bookseller separately paged and not included in the consecutive numbering of the regular series Illustrated Catalogue and Classified Book List of the Northwestern Library Association ... Northwestern Library Association, 1899 Sweet Promises J. R. Miller, 1991-01-01 Companion volume to earlier work Skyscrapers hide the heavens Previously published articles are concerned with developments in the various regions of Canada from the days of New France to the present They deal with the early military alliances relations at the time of the fur trade civil Indian policy treaties and reserves the Northwest Rebellion the impact of religion and agricultural and educational policies the emergence of native political organization differing attitudes towards the environment and the struggle for aboriginal rights and contemporary land claims disputes Introduction provides an overview of the history of Indian white relations over five centuries Saturday Review ,1879 Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign
