Why is it important to fulfill our obligations of citizenship?	Others criticize these moral obligations to the government. They are saying the United States is either small or too big to them. By following the law and not committing crimes, communities are less dangerous places. By paying taxes, citizens are making sure that the government can afford to provide services that benefit the general public. By following the rules of conduct to the government are making sure that those who live in the United States are protected from enemies who may harm us. By serving on juries, citizens are making sure that the right is upheld by jury members.
Why is it important to volunteer to do certain activities to other people?	Community service helps the community grow. It teaches everyone there is always work to do and that community people should work together to find the solution.
