DNA Replication

1. Circle the word or phrase that correctly completes each sentence.

- The DNA contained in each of the cells that make up a multicellular organism, such as a giraffe, is all [identical to/different from] the DNA in the very first cell.
- DNA replication [reduces/conserves] genetic information as organisms grow and reproduce.

Structure and Function of DNA

2. Fill in the blanks to complete the sentences.

- Duplex DNA is twisted into a double helix and held together by hydrogen bonds.
- Each strand of DNA can be used as a template for a new strand because the nucleotide bases form complementary pairs: adenine always pairs with thymine, and guanine always pairs with cytosine.
- The two strands of a DNA molecule are antiparallel, so that the 3' end of one strand always meets with the 5' end of the other.
- During DNA replication, new nucleotides can be added only to the 3' end of a growing strand, so DNA strands always grow in the 5' to 3' direction.

An Overview of the Replication Process
