

U.S. History – Regents Review Packet

1. Colonial America (1607-1763)

Main Facts to Remember

- The earliest colonies in North America were:
 - JAMESTOWN, Virginia – settled by businessmen from England who sought to make money by growing and selling tobacco; the area had fertile soil and Virginia grew into a powerful colony of tobacco plantations (large farms where slaves did most of the work).
 - MASSACHUSETTS BAY (sometimes called Plymouth) – settled by Puritans from England who were seeking religious freedom for themselves; the Puritans built towns, with small farms on the outskirts.
 - NEW AMSTERDAM – settled by Dutch traders who settled on Manhattan island; in the beginning they mainly traded furs; New Amsterdam was later taken over by the British and renamed "New York".
- Each of these colonies was built on the Atlantic Coast, close to the water (better for trade).
- The policy that the British followed toward the colonies was called mercantilism – this means that a "mother country" (like England) had colonies (like America) for two main reasons: 1. to get raw materials; 2. to create new markets (places to sell their products); it also meant that the colony was not allowed to compete economically with the mother country.
- The British also followed a policy of salutary neglect toward the American colonies – this meant that the British pretty much left the Americans alone in their day-to-day lives, as long as raw materials kept being shipped to England and as long as Americans bought only British-made products.
- Early examples of democracy in the American colonies:
 - The Mayflower Compact: An agreement made by the first Puritan settlers in Massachusetts – it said that they would follow the idea of self-government.
 - The House of Burgesses: In Virginia, this was the first elected legislature in the American colonies; it was a first step towards representative government (a government where people could elect their own representatives).

Study Guide For Us History Regents 2013:

Discipline Problems Tadashi Dozono, 2024-05-07 Angel a Black tenth grader at a New York City public school self identifies as a nerd and likes to learn But she s troubled that her history classes leave out events like the genocide and dispossession of Indigenous people in the Americas presenting a sugar coated image of the United States that is at odds with her everyday experience The history I learned in school is simpler she says The world I live in is a lot more complex Angel like every student interviewed in Discipline Problems has been identified by teachers as a troublemaker a student whose behavior disrupts classroom norms and interferes with instruction But her critiques of the curriculum she s taught speak to her curiosity and insight crucial foundations for understanding history Like many students who have been marginalized by systemic racism in American schools she exposes the shortcomings of her classrooms academic environments by challenging both the content and the methods of her education All too often these challenges are framed as troublemaking and the students are disciplined for acting out instead of being rewarded for their intellectual engagement Tadashi Dozono a professor of education and former high school social studies teacher takes seriously the often overlooked critiques that students of color who get labeled as troublemakers direct toward their high school history curriculum He reinterprets troublemaking usually cast as a behavioral deficit as an intellectual asset and form of reasoning that challenges the disciplining reason of classrooms where whiteness is valued over the histories and knowledge of people of color Dozono shows how what are traditionally framed as discipline problems can be seen through a different lens as responses to educational practices that marginalize non white students Discipline Problems reveals how students of color seek out alternate avenues for understanding their world and imagines a pedagogy that champions the curiosity intellect and knowledge of marginalized learners

Guide to Distance Learning Programs University Continuing Education Association, 2001

The World at War, 1914-1945 Jeremy Black, 2019-04-03 This text provides an innovative global military history that joins three periods World War I the interwar years and World War II Jeremy Black offers a comprehensive survey of both wars comparing continuities and differences He traces the causes of each war and assesses land sea and air warfare as separate dimensions He argues that the unprecedented nature of the two wars owed much to the demographic and industrial strength of the states involved and their ability and determination to mobilize vast resources Yet the demands of the world wars also posed major difficulties not simply in sustaining the struggle but also in conceiving of practical strategies and operational methods in the heat and competition of ever evolving conflict In this process resources skills leadership morale and alliance cohesion all proved significant In addition to his military focus Black considers other key dimensions of the conflicts especially political and social influences and impacts He thoroughly integrates the interwar years tracing the significant continuities between the two world wars He emphasizes how essential American financial industrial agricultural and energy resources were to the Allies both before and after the United States entered each war Bringing the two world wars to life Black sheds light not only on both as individual conflicts but also on the interwoven relationships between the two Realizing General Education: Reconsidering Conceptions and Renewing Practice Cynthia A. Wells, 2016-01-11 General education is widely touted as an enduring distinctive of higher education but what do we actually mean by general education Differing perspectives not only make it challenging to consider its significance but also open it up to a wide range of determinations regarding its effectiveness This volume aims to sharpen understanding of the complex picture of general education by describing how various conceptions of general education evolved historically identifying various functions expected of general education in the contemporary context and pointing out the educational practices that fulfill general education's aims in the current context The conceptions of and aspirations for general education are consequential This volume disentangles the divergent conceptions that hinder its renewal and considers the range of avenues for realizing its effectiveness This is the second issue of the 42nd volume of the Jossey Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication

Uncertain Justice Laurence Tribe, Joshua Matz, 2014-06-03 Illuminating Tribe and Matz offer well-crafted overviews of key cases decided by the Roberts Court and chart the Supreme Court's conservative path Chicago Tribune From Citizens United to its momentous rulings regarding Obamacare and gay marriage the Supreme Court under Chief Justice John Roberts has profoundly affected American life Yet the court remains a mysterious institution and the motivations of the nine men and women who serve for life are often obscure In Uncertain Justice Laurence Tribe and Joshua Matz show the surprising extent to which the Roberts Court is revising the meaning of our Constitution Political gridlock cultural change and technological progress mean that the court's decisions on key topics including free speech privacy voting rights and presidential power could be uniquely durable Acutely aware of their opportunity the justices are rewriting critical aspects of constitutional law and redrawing the ground rules of American government Tribe one of the country's leading constitutional lawyers and Matz dig deeply into the court's rulings stepping beyond tired debates over judicial activism to draw out hidden meanings and silent battles The undercurrents they reveal suggest a strikingly different vision for the future of our country one that is sure to be hotly debated Filled with original insights and compelling human stories Uncertain Justice illuminates the most colorful story of all how the Supreme Court and the Constitution frame the way we live A brilliantly layered account Filled with memorable stories and striking references to literature baseball and popular culture this book is a joy to read from start to finish Doris Kearns Goodwin Pulitzer Prize winner and 1 New York Times bestselling author of Team of Rivals Well-written and highly readable The strength of the book is its painstaking explanation of all sides of the critical cases giving full voice and weight to conservative and liberal views alike The Washington Post

Asian American Film Festivals Erin Franziska Högerle, 2020-10-26 Responding to a lack of studies on the film festival's role in the production of cultural memory this book explores different parameters through which film festivals shape our reception and memories of films By focusing on two Asian American film festivals this book analyzes the frames of memory that festivals create for their films constructed through and circulated by the various festival media It further establishes that festival locations both cities and screening venues play a significant role in shaping our experience of films Finally it shows that festivals produce performances which help guide audiences towards certain readings and direct the film's role as a memory object Bringing together film festival studies and memory studies Asian American Film Festivals offers a mixed methods approach with which to explore the film festival phenomenon thus shedding light on the complex dynamics of frames locations and performances shaping the festival's memory practices It also draws attention to the understudied genre of Asian American film festivals showing how these festivals actively engage in constructing and performing a minority group's collective identity and memory
