"Houses are built to live not to look at"

The World House Essay:

Reclaiming the Great World House Lewis V. Baldwin, Vicki L. Crawford, 2019 Reclaiming the Great World House in the 21st Century Cross Disciplinary Explorations of the Vision of Martin Luther King Jr does just that Established and emerging scholars explore Martin Luther King Jr s global vision and his lasting relevance to a globalized rights culture The editors further explain that this edited collection looks at King afresh in his own historical context while also refocusing his legacy of ideas and social praxis in broader directions for today and tomorrow Employing King s metaphor of the great world house with major attention to racism poverty and war or what he called the evil triumvirate the focus is on King s appraisal of and approach to the global human struggle in the 1950s and 60s and on the extent to which his social witness and praxis takes on new hues and pertinence not only in the ongoing struggles against racism poverty and economic injustice and violence and human destruction but also in the mounting efforts to eliminate problems such sexism homophobia and religious bigotry and intolerance from the global landscape The conclusion is that King s ideas and models of social protest are not only alive but also growing in vitality and popularity in the 21st century especially as humans worldwide are struggling daily with the lingering antiquated thinking and behavior around race and ethnicity the widening gap between the haves and the have nots the mounting cycles of violence torture and terrorism and the frustrating and growing chasms resulting from religious pluralism and the subordination and marginalization of certain sectors of the human family based on gender and sexuality

Birt, 2012-09-15 The Liberatory Philosophy of Martin Luther King Jr is a philosophical anthology which explores Dr King s legacy as a philosopher and his contemporary relevance as a thinker activist It consists of sixteen chapters organized into four sections Part I King within Philosophical Traditions Part II King as Engaged Social and Political Philosopher Part III King s Ethics of Nonviolence and Part IV Hope Resurgent or Dream Deferred Perplexities of King s Philosophical Optimism Most chapters are written by philosophers but two are by philosophically informed social scientists The contributors examine King s relationships to canonical Western philosophical traditions and to African American thought King s contribution to traditional branches of philosophy such as ethics social philosophy and philosophy of religion is explored as well as his relevance to contemporary movements for social justice As is evident from the title the book considers the importance of King's thought as liberatory discourse. Some chapters focus on topical issues like the relevance of King's moral critique of the Vietnam War to our present involvement in Middle Eastern wars. Others focus on more densely theoretical issues such as Personalism, existential philosophy or Hegelian dialectics in King's thought. The significance of King's reflections on racism, economic justice, democracy and the quest for community are abiding themes. But the volume closes quite fittingly on the importance of the theme of hope. The text is a kind of philosophical dialogue on the enduring value of the legacy of the philosopher King.

The World's Work, 1901 A history of our time The American House Poem, 1945-2021 Walt Hunter, 2024-01-11 This book explores the politics of American housing from the perspective of poets. Hunter follows the emergence of an American house poem which offers uniquely vivid expressions of the expansion of homeownership as a core tenet of American prosperity and democracy.

Home Environments Irwin Altman, Carol M. Werner, 2013-06-29 The present volume in the series focuses on homes, residences and dwellings. Although many fields have had a long standing interest in different aspects of home environments, the topic has recently come to the forefront in the interdisciplinary environment and behavior field. Researchers and theorists from many disciplines have begun to meet regularly, share ideas and perspectives and move the investigation of psychological, social and behavioral aspects of home environments to the central arena of environment and behavior studies. This volume representative though not comprehensive attempts to provide a sampling of contemporary perspectives on the study of home environments. As in previous volumes, the authors are drawn from a variety of disciplines including environmental design, fields of architecture and planning and from the social science fields of psychology, sociology, anthropology and history. This diversity of authors and perspectives makes salient the principle that the study of homes in relation to behavior requires the contributions of many disciplines. Moreover, the chapters in this volume reflect an array of research and theoretical viewpoints, different scales of home environments (e.g. objects and areas, the home as a whole, the home as embedded in neighborhood and communities etc.), design and policy issues and necessarily a comparative and cross-cultural perspective. Home environments are at the core of human life in most cultures and it is hoped that the contributions to this volume display the excitement, potential and importance of research and theory on homes.

The authors address key elements of human behavior through a global lens and discuss powerful global policy instruments and resources such as the United Nations. Engaging North American and global case studies illustrate the
