The Things They Carried

Tim O'Brien

About this Text

Tim O'Brien is an American author and veteran. This short story is based on his experiences as a soldier in the Vietnam War; the characters and details are fictional. For nearly 20 years, from the mid-1950s to 1975, American soldiers fought in South Vietnam against North Vietnam and their communist allies.

WHOLE CLASS READING

[1] First Lieutenant Jimmy Cross carried letters from a girl named Martha, a junior at Mount Sebastian College in New Jersey. They were not love letters, but Lieutenant Cross was hoping, so he kept them folded in plastic at the bottom of his rucksack. In the late afternoon, after a day's march, he would dig his foxhole,¹ wash his hands under a canteen, unwrap the letters, hold them with the tips of his fingers, and spend the last hour of light pretending. He would imagine romantic camping trips into the White Mountains in New Hampshire. He would sometimes taste the envelope flaps, knowing her tongue had been there. More than anything, he wanted Martha to love him as he loved her, but the letters were mostly chatty, elusive on the matter of love. She was an English major at Mount Sebastian, and she wrote beautifully about her professors and roommates and midterm exams, about her respect for Chaucer and her great affection for Virginia Woolf. She often quoted lines of poetry; she never mentioned the war, except to say, Jimmy, take care of yourself. The letters weighed 10 ounces. They were signed Love, Martha, but Lieutenant Cross understood that Love was only a way of signing and did not mean what he sometimes pretended it meant. At dusk, he would carefully return the letters to his rucksack. Slowly, a bit distracted, he would get up and move among his men, checking the perimeter, then at full dark he would return to his hole.

[2] The things they carried were largely determined by necessity. Among the necessities or near-necessities were P-38 can openers, pocket knives, heat tabs, wristwatches, dog tags, mosquito repellent, chewing gum, candy, cigarettes, salt tablets, packets of Kool-Aid, lighters, matches, sewing kits, Military Payment Certificates, C rations,² and two or three canteens of water. Together, these items weighed between 15 and 20 pounds, depending upon a man's habits or rate of metabolism. Henry Dobbins, who was a big man, carried extra rations; he was

Reader Response in Secondary and College Classrooms Nicholas J. Karolides, 2013-04-15 This text based on Louise M Rosenblatt's transactional model of literature focuses on the application of transactional reader response theory in the classroom It grows from frequent requests from secondary school and college teachers for teaching suggestions on how to put theory into practice This is not a What should I do on Monday cookbook but an expression of the practice of theory in college and secondary school classrooms The chapters portray a spectrum of strategies including biopoems expressive and imaginative writing journal writing readers theater role playing and unsent letters using as examples individual works from several genres Recognizing that teachers who may have been trained in other theories and methodologies may be hesitant about their quite different role and expectations in the reader centered classroom the authors provide stepping stones to develop readiness and confidence suggestions and insights to ease the transition to the transactional model of teaching and learning Pedagogical features An explanatory introduction to each section defines its orientation and describes the content and direction of the chapters it contains Invitations elicit engagement of readers with concepts attitudes or strategies presented in the chapters they invite readers as individuals or members of a small group to consider ideas or to practice a strategy among other activities in order to enhance understandings A glossary defines key concepts and strategies discussed in the text A bibliography provides an extensive list of resources books and journal articles both theoretical and applied New in the second edition Six new chapters three deal with the roles of film as literature in the English classroom and three with enhancing multicultural understandings Updates and revisions to several chapters that appeared in the first edition Invitations new in this edition have been added to focus and expand readers thinking

Wisdom Commentary:

Ezra-Nehemiah Deborah Ann Appler, Terry Ann Smith, 2025-09-15 In this volume Deborah Appler and Terry Ann Smith offer a sustained investigation and feminist critique moves beyond traditional historical and theological interpretations of Ezra Nehemiah Their intersectional analysis engages themes of gender power economics and social justice Tensions between group inclusion and exclusion are evident in Ezra Nehemiah and the authors bring attention to the complexities associated with identity formation and boundary making for a repatriated community Their volume amplifies often overlooked voices in the text and offers insight into how issues of faith marginalization and communal solidarity complicate what it means to come home Their collaborative analysis of Ezra Nehemiah demonstrates how ancient and modern communities grapple with community formation and identity amidst ever evolving social and cultural challenges

How White Men Won the Culture Wars Joseph Darda, 2021-05-25 Reuniting white America after Vietnam If war among the whites brought peace and liberty to the blacks Frederick Douglass asked in 1875 peering into the nation s future what will peace among the whites bring The answer then and now after civil war and civil rights a white reunion disguised as a veterans reunion How White Men Won the Culture Wars shows how a broad contingent of white men conservative and liberal hawk and dove vet and nonvet transformed the Vietnam War into a staging ground for a post civil rights white racial reconciliation Conservatives could celebrate white vets as deracinated embodiments of the nation Liberals could treat them as minoritized heroes whose voices must be heard Erasing Americans of color Southeast Asians and women from the war white men could agree after civil rights and feminism that they had suffered and deserved more From the POW MIA and veterans mental health movements to Rambo and Born in the U S A they remade their racial identities for an age of color blindness and multiculturalism in the image of the Vietnam vet No one wins in a culture war except Joseph Darda argues white men dressed in army green
