THESIS OVERVIEW

What is it?

You can receive 6 hours of graduate credit for completing a thesis. This is a comprehensive research paper directly related to your degree or area of specialization. You'll need to show careful research and the ability to draw valid and specific conclusions from your data. You'll work closely with a committee of three graduate faculty members, who will need to approve your thesis topic, proposal, and final project when you are finished.

What a thesis requires:

1. Student must have completed at least 12 credit hours and have a committee of three faculty members.
2. The candidate's advisor, committee members, and departmental chairperson must electronically sign the Topic Approval Sheet approving the subject. The electronic Topic Approval and the abstract outlining the topic must be turned into the Graduate School via electronic submission for approval by the candidate's advisor, committee members, and departmental chairperson and final approval by the Associate Dean before registering for THES 698. Form can be found on the Graduate School website under Tools, Forms, and Resources.
3. The student who writes a thesis must enroll in THES 698, for a total of 6 hours of credit after receiving approval from the Graduate School. Students should not register for THES 698 until after the successful proposal meeting and after the Topic Approval Sheet has been submitted to the Graduate School via electronic submission and you have received an email notification that your topic has been approved. A student must also be in good academic standing to register for THES 698. The thesis is not used to meet the requirements for any course except THES 698. The grading system used for THES 698 is credit/no credit.
4. Student must apply to graduate in order to receive submission instructions. Graduation application deadlines can be found on the Graduate School website under Dates and Deadlines.
5. The approved thesis must be submitted to the Graduate School via electronic submission in final form at least four weeks before the close of the semester or term in which the student is to be certified for graduation. The submission deadline is listed on the Graduate School website under Dates and Deadlines.
6. The final copy of the approved thesis, any accompanying materials, and a 250- to 300- word abstract of the thesis describing the nature of the study and findings must be submitted to the Graduate School electronically using the instructions sent to you via e-mail by the Graduation Coordinator. Again, you will not receive these instructions unless you applied to graduate by the graduation application deadline on the Graduate School website under Dates and Deadlines.

English Language Teaching in Theological Contexts Kitty Barnhouse Purgason, 2010-06-28. International students in North American seminaries struggling with academic work in English. The time has come to acknowledge English for Bible and Theology along with specialized program design materials and instruction. English Language Teaching in Theological Contexts explores various models for assisting seminary and Bible college students in learning English while also engaging in their theological coursework. Writing the Classroom Stephen E. Neaderhiser, 2022-11-21. Writing the Classroom explores how faculty compose and use pedagogical documents to establish classroom expectations and teaching practices as well as to articulate the professional identities they perform both inside and outside the classroom. The contributors to this unique collection employ a wide range of methodological frameworks to demonstrate how pedagogical genres—even ones as seemingly straightforward as the class syllabus—have lives extending well beyond the classroom as they become part of how college teachers represent their own academic identities, advocate for pedagogical values, and negotiate the many external forces that influence the act of teaching. Writing the Classroom shines a light on genres that are often treated as two-dimensional with purely functional purposes, arguing instead that genres like assignment prompts course proposals teaching statements and policy documents play a fundamental role in constructing the classroom and the broader pedagogical enterprise within academia Writing the Classroom calls on experienced teachers and faculty administrators to critically consider their own engagement with pedagogical genres and offers graduate students and newer faculty insight into the genres that they may only now be learning to inhabit as they seek to establish their personal teacherly identities It showcases the rhetorical complexity of the genres written in the service of pedagogy not only for students but also for the many other audiences within academia that have a role in shaping the experience of teaching Contributors Michael Albright Lora Arduser Lesley Erin Bartlett Logan Bearden Lindsay Clark Dana Comi Zack K De Piero Matt Dowell Amy Ferdinandt Stolley Mark A Hannah Megan Knight Laura R Micciche Cindy Mooty Dustin Morris Kate Navickas Kate Nesbit Jim Nugent Lori A Ostergaard Cynthia Pengilly Jessica Rivera Mueller Christina Saidy Megan Schoen Virginia Schwarz Christopher Toth
